COURT CONDON, NO. M. F. OF A. MEETS Mondays evening of each month in Armory Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

The public lands committee of the senate reported favorably the bill to enlarge the homestead unit to 320 acres and amending it to make residence on and improvement of land necessary for patent. Senator Fulton accepted the bill for Oregon, reserving the right to withdraw later if necessary.

The name of W. B. Potter of Spray is being favorably heard throughout this district as a candidate in the coming election for Representative in the legislature. With such a man as Mr. Potter in the house of representatives the people of this district would be assured of a strong power representing them, one who would work untiringly for their interests. Mr. Potter is one of the most prominent men of Wheeler County, he is one of the largest sheep owners in the country, and he has spent much of his time in the best interest and general welfare of Wheeler county and Eastern Oregon. His latest project in company with other men of his county, is making possible the irrigation of thousands of acres of land with the waters of the John Day. All of his work has pointed out his sterling worth and force of character. The people of this district are in dire need of such a man to represent them in the legislature.

The state grangers have filed arguments against the "free pass" bill and the appropriation of $25,000 for four years for the establishment of armories throughout the state. The grangers assert that the only active service to which the militia is ever called is to settle differences between large corporations and their employes, and that the former evade in every possible manner the payment of their taxes; that the Pacific Telephone company and powerful interests are trying to overthrow the gross earning tax law passed at the last election; also that additional necessary endless appropriations to install armories over the state would result in grafting.

We are pleased to be able to state that we have been reliably informed that Hon. George B. Boorhill of Sherman county will be a candidate at the coming election for the office of State Senator. Inasmuch as Gilliam has now held the senatorship for four years and Wheeler for the term previous to this, it is now Sherman's privilege to produce the senator and we are glad to know that they have decided on so able a man. We feel confident that Mr. Boorhill will be victorious in his race and we wish to assure the people that when he takes his seat in the legislature, this district will be ably represented, not in the interests of any petty political ring, but in the interests of the people. It also comes to us from the best of authority that W. J. Mariner will make the race for Representative of this district. There is probably no man as well known in eastern Oregon as a zealous worker for the interests of his county and section of the state as is Mr. Mariner.

Washington's Birthday had twice its usual interest and significance in Portland this year on account of this being also the city's first observance of "Rose Planting Day." Archbishop Christie participated in the exercises in connection with planting the thousands of roses which were borne to the parks by the school children.

A Prophet's Prophecy of His Death. The noise of Nixon's predictions reached the ears of King James, who must needs see this fool. Nixon cried out and made much ado that he might not go to court, and the reason he gave was that he should starve. A whimsical fancy this was considered. The king, being informed of Nixon's refusal to go to court, said that he would take particular care that he should not starve and ordered him to be presented. He was sent for again, and soon after a messenger brought him from Cheshire. That he might be well provided for it was ordered that he should be kept in the kitchen, where he grew so troublesome in licking and picking the meat that the cooks locked him in a closet, and, the king going on a sudden from Hampton court to London, they forgot poor Nixon in the hurry, and he was really starved to death. -Reo Bennett in Metropolitan Magazine.
