

NEWS OF THE WEEK

D. B. Thomas was an Arlington visitor on Monday.

Nat Scott of Lone Rock was a visitor in Condon on Tuesday.

The latest reports from R. Asbaugh state that he is very much improved.

Dr. and Mrs. Esson of The Dalles were Condon visitors the fist of the week.

Steve Thomas, the Fossil stage driver, made a business trip to Portland the week.

H. S. Rice, of Weigel & Rice, went to The Dalles on Monday to visit the home folks.

Emmet Armstrong left Monday to return at his home at Thermopolis, Wyoming.

Mrs. Gonzales of Portland, nee Bertha McCulley, is spending the week in town with relatives.

A $5,000 futurity stake for foals of 1908 has been put up by the Oregon State Fair Association.

Floyd Moore has rented the Frank Moore ranch, about three miles west of town, and is now one of the busy ranchers of Gilliam county.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Robinson of Ione attended the funeral of Mr. Robinson's brother, R. H. Robinson, last Friday. Mr. Robinson is one of the leading attorneys at Ione.

This office is in receipt of a package of garden seeds from Congressman Ellis. It seems that everyone is receiving a package of seeds from Washington, D. C., and by the way it is almost time to plant them.

I. F. Roberts, deputy head consul of the Modern Woodmen of America, has returned from a visit to his home in Goldendale. During the past week he has secured six new names for membership to Condon Camp No. 10,425, who will be received at the meeting this evening.

Wm. Livingston came up from Portland on Saturday to look after property interests in this city. He is at present working at the carpenter trade and keeps busy all the time, as there is great activity in the building line in the city. Mr. Livingston returned to his work on Wednesday.

We desire to thank Henry Brumette for the nice piece of bear steak which he brought in on Tuesday. Mr. Brumette bought and killed the bear owned by C. A. Simpson. The steak was very juicy and tender, and as it had been some time since we have had any bear steak it was very acceptable.

Chas. Hein of Mayville was a Condon visitor on Tuesday. While in town Mr. Hein called at this office and presented us with a few rolls of his famous German sausages. Mr. Hein was in the butcher business in San Francisco for a number of years and one of the things at which he can't be beat is the making of sausages.

Charm Cheaply Broken.

The bride was showing off the contents of her china closet when a little dish slipped through her fingers and smashed on the floor. "Oh, dear," she sighed, "there go three of my nice new things!"

"Three?" exclaimed her friend. "How is that?"

"Why, don't you know you always break in three, just as big fires come in threes? I never knew it to fall yet."

She looked ruefully at her pretty dishes and glassware. A few minutes later she was called to the kitchen, and while there the visitor heard two more smashes. The bride came back radiant.

"What luck!" she exclaimed. "I broke a milk bottle and a kitchen plate. My other things are safe now for awhile." —New York Press.

Meeting Eyebrows.

The person whose eyebrows meet may rest content in the knowledge that he is the possessor of a vigorous constitution. The growth of hair above the nose is, as a rule, a fairly sound proof of good health. That is what the scientists tell you, but the superstitious have much more to say.

In the northern part of Aberdeenshire there is a common belief that a "close broot" man, or one whose eyebrows meet, is foredoomed to end a wicked career on the scaffold. This may be compared with the view held in parts of the English midlands that the close browed person is destined for fame and fortune.

On the continent there are several superstitions on this subject. The eyebrows of gypsies are often formed in this way, a fact which they turn to good account, for in many parts it is believed that the owner of meeting eyebrows is also the possessor of what is called the evil eye and therefore a person whose good will must at all costs be retained. The gypsies, especially in Germany and Austria, use this belief to extract considerable sums of money from the credulous peasants. —London Chronicle.

Are You Looking FOR A HOME?

No farmer should think of buying land or a home until he has seen a copy of The Real Estate Journal. It has the largest list of farms, city property and stocks of goods advertised in it of any paper published and reaches 50,000 readers each issue 85 per cent. of which are farmers, and is one of the best advertising mediums of this class in the United States. Advertising rates 15c per square line. Send 75c and we will mail you the Journal for one year; or for 10c in silver or stamps we will send it for two months on trial.
