COURT CONDON, NO. 54, P. OF A. MEETS Mondays evening of each month in Armory Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

Secretary Taft has been in Washington for a few days. The event was unusual enough to create comment.

The prince de Sagan reports that Anna Gould said to him soulfully "O, if I had only married a man like you." If all we hear of the Prince is true, she did.

The g. o. p. elephant is having a pair of tariff reform trousers made. Wonder how they'll fit.

Divers and sundry rich New Yorkers divide their time about equally catching foreign titles and getting rid of them.

If Mr Bryan is not nominated at Denver, his weekly newspaper may contain some hot stuff that will be worth reading.

In spite of the increased cost of living, it costs no more this year to dream of summer vacations than it ever did.

The big spring hat threatens to hide the peek-a-boo shirtwaist this season.

Chancellor Day says "the rich do not live long." No; but they do a lot of living in a short time.

The chip is bigger than the shoulder in President Castro's case.

A Carnegie medal for bravery should be awarded to that Arkansas magistrate who dared to fine Senator Jeff Davis $25 for disorderly conduct.

Farmer Harriman hopes to harvest quite a good crop of spring railroads.

New York families of wealth appear to be able to buy everything but domestic happiness.

Guess the "dry weather" kickers must have been drowned out.

A reader asks the Journal to describe the process of electing president and vice-president. The parties hold national conventions and nominate candidates. The parties hold state conventions or congressional district conventions and nominate as many presidential electors as the state has senators and representatives in congress. The electors chosen by the popular vote of each state cast their ballots at the state capitols next January for the candidates of their party for president and vice president. One elector of each state is chosen to carry the vote to Washington, where the envelopes are all opened in house of representatives, and the result announced. There is in no state, as yet, a "primary" system of nominating electors.

To The Voters of the 28th Representative District:

An error made in preparing my petitions, discovered too late to correct, leaves my name off the official primary ballot. The only recourse left is to run as an Independent at the June election. This I have decided to do.

Am not allied with any existing faction and know of no reason why if elected I should not co-operate freely with the district delegation to be elected in June concerning all matters that may subserve the interests of the people of this district as well as those of the state at large.

Miss Carrie Harden, Bowling Green, Ky writes "I suffered much pain from kidney and bladder trouble until I started to use Foley's Kidney Remedy. The first bottle gave relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely well." Condon Drug Co.
