COURT CONDON, NO. 34, F. OF A. MEETS Mondays evening of each month in Armory Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

The will of the people is supreme in Oregon and cheerful submission to it will make disappointment the easier to bear. Throughout the state party lines were broken and voters chose the man irrespective of his political affiliation. The defeat of H. M. Cake by Geo. E. Chamberlain was in a measure due to the factional strife in the Republican party and Mr. Cake's apparent luke-warm attitude on Statement No. One during the last campaign. Here in the district comprising Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler, the victory is distinctly the people's victory. It means new leadership and emancipation from the one-man power. The result of Monday's contest will hasten the return to true Republicanism. The victory of Messrs. Mariner and Jackson over Messrs. Donnelly and Pike means just that thing. Senator Bowerman received a severe jolt in his home county winning over Mr. Edwards by only 67 votes. The strength of the organization behind Bowerman contributed much to his success. The triumph of James E. Burdett over J. A. Collier was a happy surprise to the friends of the young Arlington lawyer. The battle is over; some of the candidates have been re-elected because of their good records and the newly elected officers if true to their promises should give Gilliam county a clean and honest administration. There are losers to whom The Globe extends sympathy for most of them were good men worthy of respect and confidence.

Now that the election is over, the boosting of the Fourth of July celebration should be uppermost in the minds of the people of Condon. A big celebration will prove a valuable asset to the commercial and business interests of the city for huge crowds from the neighboring country will come here to attend the festivities. The celebration should have several features to draw the crowds to Condon and after they are here the visitors should be made to feel at home that they may enjoy the celebration to its fullest extent. Every attempt to bring Condon to the public eye means a larger and more prosperous city. When all the preparations have been made for the Fourth of July, let the event be given wide publicity and the largest crowds ever gathered in Condon on a similar occasion will reward the efforts of the committees in charge of the celebration.

Vice President Fairbanks' recent remark that he preferred more schoolhouses to more battle-ships may not make much of a hit just at this time. Nevertheless it will do to remember and ponder over.

J. Pierpont Morgan announces that the panic is all over. Get your tickets for the prosperity procession.
