

CLEM COLTS TOO FRISKY

Visitors Spring Surprise on Local Team and Win with Score of 12 to 7.

The Clem "Colts" were too frisky for the Condon Grays last Sunday and could not be roped but kept a-prancing around the circuit for twelve runs while the locals came home but seven times.

The crowd appeared to be sympathy with the visitors and from first to last there was keen rivalry in the rooting section. Naturally considerable coin passed from one pocket to another. Then the seventh inning is a hoodoo to the home team and it proved so that afternoon. All the week long the cigar stores where the fans are wont to congregate, have been the scenes of "I told-you-so" baseball games where the contest of last Sunday was played over again and with great enthusiasm. Just how it happened but few seem to know. Official Scorer Titus chronicles the day's happenings as follows:

Anent Wool Buying.

Frank Lee, the wool buyer for the Pendleton Scouring Mills, bought several wool clips in this city during the past week and returned to Heppner on Wednesday. The growers who disposed of their clips were Jim Cameron, 47 sacks at 9 3-4 cents; Murtha & Monahan, and Wm. Rettie. Mr. Lee is having the wool baled here this week. He was well pleased with the quality of the wool in this section and said on leaving that if the growers get together and offer their clips for sale that there would be no trouble in getting buyers to come here and thus secure big sales days. Buyers are after both quality and quantity and there are no good reasons why Condon should not be one of the recognized wool buying centers.

Want Better Mail Service.

The farmers of the Pine Ridge district are dissatisfied with their present mail service. Some favor the establishment of a post-office but no one desires to apply to Uncle Sam for the job nor does any one want to discharge the duties connected with the office. Yet every one in the neighborhood is desirous of obtaining a more adequate mail service. A route connecting directly with Condon with a change of itinerary so as to accommodate a greater number of patrons, would prove more satisfactory to those interested.

James Codd has returned to Condon after an extended stay in old England.

C. F. Reynolds, the train agent on the Flyer left yesterday morning for Portland to report at the head office of the railroad company. He will be given another run, probably out of Spokane. P. E. Mahaffey will punch the tickets hereafter.

An adv. in The Globe advertising a special sale of suits for Dunn Bros.' big store brought out the sale of 18 suits in one day. Can any other country paper beat this record? This is what you call results and it pays to advertise in The Globe.

At a meeting of the city council there was a new ordinance passed regulating water rates. According to the new schedule private residences $2.00; stores $2.00; barber shops $2.50; confectionery stores $2.50; livery and feed barn $10; private barn 3 animals or less 50 cents, each additional animal 15 cents. Judge Littlefield has issued an order for a writ of review of the order made recently by county court declaring prohibition of the liquor traffic effective throughout Gilliam county after June 30. It is probable that the arguments will be presented by counsels before the court today. In the meanwhile all the saloons with one exception have closed their doors. The restraining clause of the order reads in part as follows: That the said circuit court may cause further to be done, and in the mean time commanding by said writ to the said officers, Edward Dunn, as county judge, and J. W. Dyer and B. T. Snell, county commissioners of said Gilliam county, and all other persons acting as agents, officers or employees of said court of Gilliam county, to desist from further proceedings in the said matter to be reviewed. The order was issued June 29.

T. D. Sweetin, former marshal of Condon, was in town Monday evening and as deputy sheriff from Arlington brought up Ed Fanning to the county jail. Fanning was arrested Saturday for striking into an unconscious condition and robbing Mr. Elwood who runs a hotel at Blalock, of the sum of $25 during the night. After committing the offence, Fanning walked up the railroad track and two hours later was apprehended at Arlington. Fanning is a young fellow who had been doing odd jobs about the hotel for about ten days. As soon as the hotel-keeper had recovered his senses, he kept the telephone wires busy and communicated with Arlington and The Dalles in an effort to intercept the movements of the young thief. Fanning was given a hearing Saturday before Justice of the Peace Collins of Arlington but waived examination and was bound over until the next term of the circuit court which convenes in September.

The Arlington band is here and the instrumentation has been strengthened by a number of players. Clem is here, too, and is represented by a bunch of fans loyal and eager to see their team win the tournament. This afternoon the first game of the series is in progress at the local grounds. Many are wearing the colors of the home team—orange and black. The sales this morning were well patronized and all indications point to the success of the celebration.
