Hon. John Simons, formerly mayor of Heppner and a resident of that place for more than twenty-five years, was here the latter part of the week on his return from a visit at Lone Rock with the Boone and Madden families. Mr. Simons has been actively engaged in the blacksmith business since 1849 when he stepped in a shop for the first time back in old Missouri, and he did not give up hammering the anvil until 18 months ago when he retired from business. This was his first visit to Condon and was somewhat surprised to notice so thriving a town in this section of the country.
