S. B. Barker came in on the flyer Monday evening from Portland.

This office is in receipt of a letter from Arthur Schilling in The Dalles requesting the management to be sure to mail him a copy of The Globe each week as he says it is the only way to keep in touch with happenings of interest in this county.

The Model Restaurant will be open for business next Sunday and will serve dinner. Gong Lane says he will conduct a first-class eating house. For many years he conducted a restaurant at Heppner. He has made extensive improvements on the Searcy building, secured new linen and fixtures and has an attractive place.

Mrs. W. A. Darling is agent in this city for the famous tailors, Chas. A. Stevens & Bros., makers of ladies' garments. Mrs. Darling is ready to take orders for suits, silk waists, skirts, etc. Call at residence opposite Summit Hotel, Condon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Rice left Condon Tuesday morning for The Dalles where Mr. Rice expects to engage in the clothing business. Mr. and Mrs. Rice will be missed in social circles. Mr. Rice is held in esteem by his business associates and took active interest in the Wheat City's athletics.

Call on him at Hunt's Hardware Store when you are in want of any such services.

Conference Closes.

The semi-annual conference of this district of the Latter Day Saints church was held in that church, in this city, on Saturday afternoon. The officers elected were: A. J. Moore, of this city, president; J. C. Clarke, of Portland, vice-president; and A. E. Laslie, of Portland, secretary.

The next Conference meets in Portland in the latter part of February. The elders attending the conference from outside points were Elder Keeler and Elder C. T. Chapman, of Hood River.

Senator Fulton to Speak Here.

Hon. Charles W. Fulton, United States senator from Oregon and one of the foremost orators in the United States senate, will address the people of Gilliam county at Condon on Friday evening, October 16th. Senator Fulton is a close personal friend of Mr. Taft and was also a member of the national convention which nominated Mr. Taft for president and probably is in a better position to make a speech from a Republican standpoint than any other man in the state. All voters should attend this meeting for they will not have a better opportunity to hear the Republican policies discussed during this campaign.

Genasco Roofing, the best on earth, for sale. Arlington Lumber Company

P. Brunzel returned from Portland Monday and while there disposed of a car load of horses.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Moore and family left last week for Portland where they expect to make their future home. They drove across country to The Dalles and took the boat from there. These estimable people have lived in this vicinity for many years and have a host of friends here who regret their departure. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moore accompanied them and will reside in the Rose City during the winter, returning to the ranch west of Condon next spring.

Reveries of a Bachelor.

The maid I love, what must she be?
As bright and sweet as summer sea,
Give me a look, give me a face
That gives simplicity and grace,
Her movements neat, complexion fine
Where rose and lilly both combine.
Her person tall, well formed and grand,
Her words love and respect command.
Have fortune, youth, self-culture, too.
Yet after all she will not do
Unless she, cook, turn out my tea,
The time and way I'd have it be.

"Parceling Out de People."

Fishing, two boys strung their big catch on the same string. Passing a graveyard they entered the gate to divide the catch, dropping two fish just as they went inside the cemetery.

Passing, an aged negro heard the two boys: "I'll take this one, you that one; I this one, you that one; I this one, you that one," etc.

The negro listened in dismay and ran away as rapidly as his old legs could carry him. He met his negro minister, who called:

"Deacon, why you run in such terror?"

"Declare, parson, I been down yonder by de graveyard and over de fence heard de devil and de Lord parceling out de people atween 'em."

The parson laughed at the old man's fright and made him go back with him to the graveyard to convince him of his error.

The boys were still dividing—"You take that, I take this," etc. Finally one boy asked, "What you going to do with them two at the gate?"

This was more than parson or deacon could stand, and both ran pellmell, neither wishing to take any further chances, no matter what was going on just over the fence.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

Penguin Battles.

The penguin, a notable diver among sea birds, wins his mate by right of conquest. The male birds fight for the possession of the females. These curious birds have regular duel grounds, where relics of innumerable combats in the shape of feathers lie scattered about. In the center is the fighting arena, clear of all debris. The penguins' feathers and blubber form an efficient shield against their opponents' beaks, so the weapon used is the short flipper, the only wings the birds possess. The fight begins with the two combatants walking round each other waiting for an opportunity to grip. Once this is done the flippers come into play. The fighters shower blow after blow upon each other. There is no record as to how these fights end, but it is a safe supposition to say that they are seldom fatal. The force of the blow from a penguin's flipper is such that three or four of them will draw blood from the human hand.

How Models Make Pictures.

The artist gazed in rapture on "The Kiss," his latest picture.

"Do you grasp," he said, "the passionate grace of the girl's attitude, the warmth and the power wherewith her tense white arms draw the young man closer, ever closer? Well, I got that idea from my model, a shopgirl.

"But for my model's suggestion I'd have put the girl in a stiff, cold pose, and the picture would never have been the masterpiece it is. But my model pointed out to me the abandon wherewith a girl, whether of high or low station, gives herself up to a kiss' charm. She illustrated the thing, aided by a male model, a young medical student. Yes, she made my picture.

"The fact is, models make, with their valuable hints and suggestions, lots of pictures. There's many a masterpiece whose merit is due to the splendid pose that the model originated for the principal figure."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Wm. Head was in town Tuesday from his Rock Creek ranch.

Burma's Popular Sports.

A form of speculation very popular in Burma is bull racing. A certain native sportsman is the owner of one of these bulls, for which he has refused an offer of 10,000 rupees. It has won several races and is looked after and as carefully tended as a Derby favorite. The owner values it at 25,000 rupees, and, it is said, it brings him an annual income of from 12,000 to 15,000 rupees. It is carefully guarded by four men lest it may be got at and "doctored."

Burmans also patronize boxing eagerly, but the art can scarcely be practiced according to Queensberry rules, for we are told by a provincial reporter that he has observed that "even the best boxers strike out with their eyes tightly shut, and if they do hit each other it is more by chance than anything else."—Calcutta Statesman.

The Wrong Lady.

Some young idlers had been enjoying the fun of hailing passing shopgirls with rather doubtful compliments, and from some of the answers returned it was evident that not all of those addressed were taking things kindly. Presently one of the older boys, seeing it was going too far, spoke up. "Look a' here now, fellers," he added, "youse might think youse is wise guys an' all that, but just keep on an' the wrong lady'll come along, an' she'll break yer face, see?"—Argonaut.

A Parthian Shot.

"Even though you are my brother's son I am obliged to discharge you. But I am sorry for your mother's sake."

"Oh, that's all right, sir. Mother says she don't see how I've put up with you as long as I have."—Judge.

Preparation.

Guest—So your fellow keeper Page is going to be married, is he? Gamekeeper—Aye, sir, that-a-be. He wor prayed for in church foor the second time Sunday last.—London Mail.

Raising the Ante.

Applying for a divorce, an old Georgia negro said to the judge: "Hit only cost me a string er fish ter git married, jedge, but, please God, I'd give a whale ter git rid er her."

Wanted the Earth.

Browne—Did you ever see a man who really wanted the earth? Towne—Oh, yes. Browne—Who was he? Towne—A first trip passenger on an ocean liner.

An Odd Legacy.

Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Jefferson family of setters, was remembered curiously in the will of Weston, who was himself an esteemed member of Garrick's company. Weston's will contained this item:

"I have played under the management of Mr. Jefferson at Richmond and received from him every politeness. I therefore leave him all my stock of prudence, it being the only good quality I think he stands in need of."
