"THE SCHOOL OF QUALITY"

Tenth and Mason, Portland, Oregon A. P. Armstrong, LL.B., Principal
 We occupy two floors 65 by 100 feet, have a $20,000 equipment, employ a large faculty, give individual instruction, receive more calls for office than we can meet. Our school admittedly leads all others in quality of instruction. It pays to attend such an institution.
 "Said a Business Man: 'Keep hammering away everlastingly on thorough work. It will out in the end.'" Said an Educator: "The quality of instruction given in a school makes it the standard of its kind in the Northwest."
 Open all year. Students admitted at any time. Catalogue free.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

Geo. Wason who was a business visitor in the Rose City last week, returned to Condon Friday evening.

A. S. Rice who accompanied Sheriff Rogers to Salem with prisoners last week, returned to Condon last Friday evening.

When in need of printing, be not lead astray. The aluminum sign with the blue back-ground stands for quality printing, the kind you are after.

Fred Weisman who formerly had a chair in Frank Golden's barber shop, was in Arlington last week on his return from Hot Lake where he had been for two weeks. Weisman was on his way to Pendleton where he is employed.

Mrs. Evelyn A. Moore died at The Dalles sanatorium last Thursday evening after an illness of three weeks. She was a sister of Mrs. Mary A. Gilliam, of Fossil, and former District Attorney Frank Menefee is her brother.

After an absence of seven years from Condon, the De Moss Lyric Band appeared at the Congregational church last Saturday evening and entertained a fair-sized audience. From organ to xylophone, from cornet to cello, the De Moss play any musical instrument. The company's orchestra is above the average and rendered a number of selections. They gave a pleasing entertainment at Mayville during the week.

Condon's new theatre, "The American" opened Tuesday evening under favorable auspices. The management plans to give a strictly up-to-date moving picture show presenting the latest pictures and illustrated songs. The building formerly occupied by Mrs. Baker's millinery parlors has been renovated, a neat box office has been built as well as a room for the operator. The plans, for the present, are to give three shows each night.

N. Madden shipped a carload of cattle to the Portland market the latter part of last week.

Elder Keeler of Portland arrived in the Wheat City last Friday evening to be present at the annual conference of the Latter Day Saint Church of this city.

"Am I a sucker, or am I not? That's the question. I don't deal with Hunt, the Hardware Man, but my neighbors tell me he sells the best line of implements in the county and at lower prices than any one else. At any rate, he is selling the goods and that's the best gauge to go by. I guess I'll go and see Hunt, anyway. He takes back anything that does not come up to his representations and refunds one's money without a kick. I'm going to do it now."

What might have proved a disastrous fire was averted at the nick of time Friday afternoon when the little shed in the lot at the rear of the Condon Livery barn caught fire through some unknown cause. For a while the flames surged skyward but after some delay, the fire department turned on a stream of water that checked the flames and extinguished the blaze. Two buggies which were near-by were badly scorched by the heat.

Arthur A. Keene, of Portland, Ore., arrived in Condon the latter part of last week to assume the management of the Optical and Jewelry departments of Herman W. Pauling. Mr. Keene is a graduate of two eastern Optical colleges and holds a diploma from an Horological school and adds to his qualifications several years of actual experience. He has been employed in the offices of some of the leading opticians of the state.

Many Clay Pigeons are Broken
 Last Sunday afternoon Frank Golden, Ben Esser, Chas. Kennedy, Otis Campbell, G. Seaton Taylor, Marcus Portwood, L. E. Laurence and other local gun men met at the race track and proceeded to perforate the atmosphere thereabout, and also breaking a few clay pigeons. Mr. Esser carried off the honors of the day with a perfect score. The only casualty of the day fell to G. Seaton Taylor who cut his finger severely on one of the pigeon.

Greatest Danger to Swimmers.
 "It isn't cramp," said a life guard, "that carries off so many good swimmers. After all, what is a leg or arm cramp? Couldn't a good swimmer easily turn on his back and float till the attack departed? No, cramp won't account for the strange seizures that in a twinkling turn a very fish of a swimmer into a helpless, speechless, drowning paralytic. What accounts for this business is water inhaling. A swimmer inhales spray through the nostrils, it passes through the pharynx, behind the epiglottis or windpipe guard and so down into the windpipe. The result is nearly certain death. Swallowing water does you no harm, but breathing it may kill you. How to avoid accidentally breathing it, though, that is a question nobody seems able to answer." — Philadelphia Bulletin.

A JEWELER'S EXPERIENCE
 C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and can recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. Condon Drug Company.

Waking a Deaf Person.
 "To wake a deaf person who wishes to be called at a certain hour is about the hardest proposition a hotel clerk runs up against," said a member of that genial fraternity. "To ring the telephone is useless because the man couldn't hear if you rang until doomsday. Knocking, for the same reason, is equally futile. Now and then a guest who has lost his hearing suggests that he leave his door open all night so we can walk right in and shake him, but even though he does appear to be a dead game sport there are so many chances of somebody else less guileless than ourselves walking in ahead of us that we cannot consent to that. So far the only satisfactory way found for waking a deaf lodger is to tie a string to his wrist, pass the string through the keyhole and then tug away at it at the appointed time. That method, however, is rather primitive. It seems to me that the man who can patent a harmless artistic device for waking the deaf is sure of fame and fortune, not to mention the gratitude of hotel clerks." — New York Sun.

The Mullahs of India.
 A mullah, or, as it is more properly written, mollah, is a title given in India and throughout the east generally to a religious leader of any description. Thus the sultan of Turkey is a mullah, because he is the supreme head of the moslem world. And there are hundreds of others. To most of the more conspicuous among them we prefix the adjective "mad." This, however, must not be taken to mean that they are insane, the word being used rather in its oriental significance of "inspired." The person of the mollah is sacred. Not even the mighty Habibullah himself would care to lay a sacrilegious finger on one of these saintly personages. If he were to venture such an unheard of thing, vengeance would surely overtake him. For it is the cardinal principle of the Ulama—as the mollahs are collectively termed—that an injury purposely caused to one of their number can only be atoned for by the death of the individual inflicting it.
