

GRAIN PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT

Conservation of Moisture Already Shows Results.

The recent rains which have fallen in the Blalock section are regarded as insurance of more than an average crop of grain in 1909, as a bumper crop of fall sown grain. Although the total rainfall from October, 1907, to October, 1908, was only 5.7 inches, and the past season was considered the driest since cultivation of the famous Blalock wheat belt was commenced, crops were harvested that yielded over 20 bushels of wheat to the acre. This fact leads those who are in a position to know to predict such bright prospects. The result of last season's yields, also proves to a certain extent that the progressive farmers of this locality have solved that problem in dry land farming known as conservation of moisture. Since October 1st, the precipitation has amounted to 1.7 inches and fall sown grain has been benefited to such an extent that old-timers claim it is the best prospect they ever had. The acreage in this vicinity will be larger than usual and fall sown grain has been treated to the latest methods known in preparing ground for fall sowing. Following is a partial list of fall sown wheat: W. J. Mariner 700 acres, Bunch & Sons 1500, Baker & Sons 800, W. W. McKinney, 300; Hull & Crew, 580; and it is safe to say that several smaller growers will swell the list to 5000 acres of winter wheat.

The favorite varieties in this section are Forty-fold, Turkey Red and Red Fife. Besides the bright prospects for a heavy grain crop, the farmers and stockmen are jubilant over the prospects for winter grazing, as the pasture lands, both range and stubble fields are loaded down with an abundance of green feed and all kinds of stock are in fine condition.

LIQUOR CASES FOR SUPREME COURT

Saloons Are Allowed to Run in the Meantime.

Judge Littlefield, W. H. Wilson of The Dalles and District Attorney J. E. Burdette of Arlington met in this city on Monday night to take up the matter which has been agitating local circles for the past few weeks, the question as to whether Condon should be wet or dry. After reviewing the order of Prohibition made by the County Court on the 11th of June, the case of G. W. Raper vs the County Court on July 3rd was taken up. Judge Littlefield at that time held that the charter of Condon does not supersede the local option law, deciding the case against the plaintiff. At the conference Monday night, however, it was decided that this case should be appealed to the Supreme Court and that said appeal should be perfected as soon as possible. Every effort possible will be put forth to have this case advanced on the calendar of the Supreme Court and tried at once, and it is confidently expected that a decision will be returned not later than January 1st. It was further decided that in the meantime the saloons are to remain open.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Lola Ion Dorsett of Baker City to George E. Swafford, manager of the Condon Drug Company of this city, on Wednesday, December 9th, at the home of the bride's parents.

WILLIAMS THE JEWELER and EXPERT OPTICIAN

Came here about four years ago and advertised himself as an expert jeweler and optician and the 500 testimonials in my possession have proven to the people that I was what I pretended to be. Over 400 of my glasses are being worn daily in this County with benefit and satisfaction. C. Gilbert Percival, M. D., College Physician and Surgeon of Boston, has the following to say about the eye and the danger the public has to face: "The eye being a delicate organ, demands the care of the most skilled physician. The public should be especially warned against persons not medical graduates who impudently assume the title of Doctor, and, whether still engaged in the eye destroying spectacle trade or retired therefrom to wreak still greater destruction as self-styled specialists, deserve no attention save at the hands of the Legislature. A specialist, to assume this title legally, must be a graduate in medicine." Remember, when you have spent your money and got nothing for it and your eyes still trouble you, call and see a competent refracting optician. WILLIAMS the JEWELER and EXPERT OPTICIAN.
