At no time in the history of Gilliam County have the growing crops looked better than they do at the present time. All indications point toward a big ance between towns, grades, wheat crop and an era of prosperity for this section of the state but notwithstanding this there are some pestiferous pessimists who persist in predicting dire calamities. According to these the fall wheat, from being a little spotted in places, is sure to amount to nothing. Others are voicing the worn out complaint of drouth when as a matter of fact the ground contains more moisture than ever before at this time of the year. The ones who are raising the howl are, as a rule, those who haven't the inclination to do the necessary amount of proper work on their farms. Gilliam County soil will raise crops if properly farmed,

According to Paul Reddington, assistant district forester, the northwest will be the scene of the greatest activity in the campaign inagurated by Secretary Wilson, through the forest service, to induce American homeseekers to take up homesteads within the national forests instead of emigrating to Canada. With the idea of promoting Chief Forester settlement, Graves has started on a trip throughout the west. The efforts of the bureau will be centered on western Montana, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and northern California, as ideal locations for working out homestead plans.

The Quarter Centennial of the Oregon Agricultural College will be celebrated Tuesday, June 14. The annual Commencement exercises will take up the three days immediatly preceeding this date.

Excursion rates of a fare and a third will be in operation on all railroads within the state and special trains will be put on wherever there is a demand. A rate of one fare for the round trip will prevail on these trains.

A curtain riser of the Census has it that Governor Patterson of Tennessee has pardoned 152 murderers, 108 blind tiger operators and 126 carriers of concealed weapons, during his term so far. The Governor ought to have an effective, if not a very desirable constituency when he runs for reelection.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians who are to hold their annual convention in Portland July 19th to 24th of this year say no meeting ever excited such advance interest. Late advices say Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, will send twenty-five delegates, while from the Middle West special cars and even special trains are being planned right now.

The exposition fever has at length struck China. At Nankin. one of the oldest cities of the flowery kingdom, an exposition will be held beginning on May 19. The Chinese of the different provinces are taking a keen interest in the projects.

Association and the Portland method.

Automobile Club are doing a great work for good roads. Mr. H. R. Glenn, in charge of the 'Pathfinder Car," in company with Engineer E. Frank. is going to make a tour of all the principal roads in Eastern Oregon. These gentlemen will be in The Dalles on Tuesday and will map out their trip from there with the idea of compiling an accurate road map. Reliable road information in this state is very scarce, and with a good map available tourists' automobiles from all parts of the U. S. will be almost as plentiful on the country roads as in the towns and cities today.

This new map will show distevery turn in the road and odometer reading.

Oregon is given first place in the leading article of May "Gardening". As the magazine expresses it, "A corner of the American continent which is ideal for all kinds of roses; and where they excel in beauty anything seen in the world". The author of the beautifully illustrated story is Frederick V. Holman, widely known as a rosarian.

Several other eastern magazines have planned to send staff photographers to the coast this Summer during the height of the rose season and to get pictures of the Rose Festival.
