Ours is a city that enjoys many natural and acquired resources—a substantial city whose foundations are laid upon a soil that cannot be surpassed for productiveness—a city supplied with the very purest and best of water—a city whose educational advantages have reached a standard through the skillful direction of competent officials, second to that of no other place of its size anywhere—a city where harmony among the communicants of the different churches is in perfect accord with objects sought by our forefathers of the "Mayflower," and all doctrines are ably expounded with untrammelled freedom from the pulpits of our different churches—a city whose social advantages are equal to those afforded by places many times its size and age—a city where the rich enjoy every luxury desired, and the poor are not allowed to suffer—a city where peace and good will toward all men is exemplified. If perchance, a copy of this paper should fall into the hands of any who are in search of a new location—a place where church, school and social advantages are given emphasis, and where you can live out your allotted number of years without fear of pestilence or famine, we say, like one of old, "Come thou with us and we will do thee good," without emphasis on the "do."

Nothing else of the same cost adds so much to the attractiveness of a town, nothing else gives such an air of prosperity and thrift, of comfort and content as the good repair and neat appearance of buildings and fences and generally well kept up premises. A few dollars spent by way of paint, and a little time spent now and then fixing up, toning up and keeping things in order, has a most wonderful effect and a store of satisfaction. Great and imposing edifices are not necessary to beauty and attractiveness. We know of some humble cottages, yet are so enveloped in neatness and tidiness of all things round about, we never look on them but we are reminded it must be pleasant to be there.

Questions sent to this paper for solution: An inquisitive correspondent wants to know which is worse, caterpillars or grasshoppers? Depends on where you have 'em; on the wheat grasshoppers are worse, down your back caterpillars. 2. Somebody wants the tariff problem solved. Make up your mind which way you want it and that will be it. 3. Is marriage a failure? No, not if you secure your wedding cards at this office. 4. When will the U. S. have another war? When some other nation thinks they can whip us.

Wilt thou take her for thy "pard," for better or for worse; to have, to fondly guard, till hauled off in the hearse? Wilt thou let her have her way, consult her many wishes, make the fires up every day, and help her with the dishes? Wilt thou give her all the "stuff" her little purse will pack buy her a monkey boa and muf, a little seal skin sacque? Wilt thou comfort and support her father mother, Aunt Jemima, Uncle John, thirteen sisters and a brother? And his face grew pale and blank, it was too late to jilt; as through the chapel floor he sank he sadly said, "I wilt."

By patronizing home merchants you are rewarded by always having good enterprising merchants at home. Patronize them and they will benefit you in more ways than one. You are rewarded by seeing your patronage and the patronage of your influence in building up and maintaining your own town; patronize home merchants, home industry and home enterprise of all kinds in preference to those of any place. Spend your money at home with people who have interest in your town. By doing this the town is kept up, property is made more valuable, conveniences are enlarged and opportunities for financial improvements are opened.

Eschew all conglomerations of bablement and assinine affections. Let your extemporaneous decantings and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or bombast. Sedulously avoid polysyllabic profundity, pomyous prolixity, ventriloquial verbosity and grandiloquent vapidity. Shun double-entendres, purient jocosity and pestiferous profanity, obscurant or apparant.
