CORPORATIONS VS. PEOPLE

At the coming election the votes of the people of Oregon will be divided into two classes or sections. Those in favor of rule by corporations, and those in favor of the rule by the people. If the people of Oregon vote for rule by corporations we shall and will get the kind of rule which has dominated the United States senate and house of representatives in the past few years. We will not get a homeopathic but an allopathic dose of corporation medicine. For over a score of years the people of the United States have been dominated by the corporations, and under their rule gigantic trusts have been nursed and fed until they have become a menace to the welfare of the people of the country. Every step has been one for the interests of the corporations and against the people. So bold and outrageous have these things become, that now the country is experiencing an awakening the like of which has not been experienced in many a year. One side a handful of men called progressives, demanding that the welfare of the people be safeguarded. On the other hand a set of powerful and mighty corporation men ready to dole out political death to these men. These corporation men have been given various names throughout the United States. In some localities they have been called the Old Guard. In others, Standpatters, Stalwarts, Regulars and the like. In Oregon they are today called the Assemblyites because the assembly is backed by the corporations and their candidates stand for corporation rule.

The people at this time have in the field the anti-assembly men, they stand for the principle, "Peoples Rule." The advocates of this principle are opposed to every measure which is not in common with the interests of the people. They are at this time having the battles of their lives to decide either one way or other, whether or not the people of Oregon shall be thrown back to old corporation-convention rule of twenty years ago, and make Oregon twenty years behind the times instead of making it the most progressive and up to date state in the Union, in making laws, which emancipate the people from corporation rule. If we get the assembly we will again be classed as a state led by corporations instead of a state led by the people. The first stands for everything which is antagonistic to the welfare of the common people of Oregon, the last stands for fair play, and insures to the people that the millionaire will receive no better and greater privileges than the men, who by the sweat of their brows earn the necessities of life to keep alive the wives and babies of their homes, be they toilers on ranches in Eastern Oregon, or in any other walk of life. They are the people who need protection.

The one lone fact, namely, that corporations are interested and doing what they can to elect the assembly candidates should be sufficient to make us see that it is composed of men who will do such things as are consistent with the welfare of the corporations and against the people of Oregon. These are questions for every voter of Oregon to consider. They are vital to our government and cannot be ignored if we are to rule. What will the Oregon people do? We wait for their verdict.

BUY A HOME

Every man should buy himself a town lot, get that paid for, and then work to make the necessary improvements. A little here and a little there will in due time produce you a home of your own, and place you out of the landlord's grasp; remember that fifty dollars a year saved in rent, will in a very few years pay for your home, and the money it costs you to move and shift about, without a loss of furniture and time, pay the interest on a five hundred dollar judgment against your property, until you can gradually reduce it to nothing. You can all buy that way—why do you not risk it? If you fail you are no worse off—if you succeed, as any careful man is sure to do, you have made a home and established a basis equal to another's, which will start you in business.

NEW ZEALAND IN THE LEAD

New Zealand is a new country, able to furnish new ideas in government, which may be profitably imitated by us. It is ruled on the idea, which is rapidly assuming controlling strength here, that the people rule. There they do it in fact; here they have only done it in name. We do it out of the mouths of our rulers, who too often have fallen into the habit of regarding themselves and their own interests as the people's—and of making laws accordingly. Here the corporation has risen to the control of things from which it has now to be torn down.

New Zealand seems to have taken it by the ear in time, and to have secured the development of industries without undue cost to the people, by the simple expedient of stepping in with government operation of monopolies and government hand on conspiracies seeking to suppress competition in business.

The government operates the railroads and telegraphs and such things as need to be monopolies for their successful and cheap development. The government keeps the manufacturers in check by its duties and taxes. It is seemingly, a very paternal government, but perhaps not more so than is necessary to secure to the individual citizen his liberty and equality, which we declare for them, but fail in every way to secure to them.

We will get there after a while, but New Zealand seems to have stolen a march on us. They have street car fares there for a penny, which is two cents; and a seat for every passenger. When the seats are full no more are taken aboard; an arrangement recommending itself to the good sense of everyone save the transporter, no one of whom has ever seen its propriety.

They say the proposed passenger would howl if excluded; and so he might; but the way to pacify him is to give him a seat in another car—which is also a remedy which the transporter in this country finds too costly for his taste.
