OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Railroad Fights Employers' Law.
Portland.—Announcing that it cannot and will not obey the state laws regulating the hours of employment for railroad employes, the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company has brought suit in the United States circuit court asking for an interlocutory injunction restraining the state railroad commission and the state district attorneys from prosecuting it for violations of the law.

Dallas to Have Prune Fair.
Dallas.—Though at a previous meeting the proposition of giving a prune fair and carnival here in September was rejected because the Fruitgrowers' Union had planned upon a fruit fair here in December, the Dallas Commercial Club, upon reconsidering the matter, voted to hold a prune fair and carnival here in September.

CORD MAY REVIVE LEG
Girl, Unable to Walk for Two Years, Undergoes Operation.

Portland.—By taking the tendon, Achilles, from the leg of a lamb and sewing it into the bone of the left leg of 11-year-old Melissa Oades, an operation performed by Doctors Rich and Marsh, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, the little girl, who has been paralyzed in both lower limbs for the last two years, is expected to recover the use of her limbs.

The girl rallied well from the shock of the operation, which is thought to have been successful.

The operation is believed to be the first of its kind in Portland and not many cases have been found in the United States. The usual tendons used in replacing human tendons are those from dogs, but the parents of the girl were opposed to the use of a dog's muscle and a lamb was substituted.

Medford to Have New Steel Bridge.

Medford.—Plans for the $30,000 bridge across Bear Creek in Medford were accepted by the county court. With the securing of a strip of land owned by F. J. Williamson and F. C. Page by the city the only impediment was removed and despite the heavy expense incurred by the county, the commissioners decided for the construction of the span.

Subscribers Order Phones Removed.

Joseph.—The fight between the Home Independent Telephone Company and its subscribers over the recent increase in telephone rates, reached an interesting stage when in fulfillment of pledges signed several days ago, virtually every farmer and business man in this vicinity ordered his phone taken out.

Steamer Agents Fight.

Hood River.—A controversy over the right to land at the local water front between The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company and the Open River Transportation Company, has already resulted in a personal encounter between the local agents for the two companies and may lead to a legal conflict.

NURSERY SUES FOR $20,000

Roseburg Man Alleged to Have Injured Firm by Statements.

Hillsboro.—The Oregon Nursery Company has filed suit in the district court against George A. Bradburn, asking $20,000 damages for alleged false statements regarding the nursery stock of the plaintiff.

The statements in question were published in a Portland daily, and the article, which forms part of the complaint filed, was in the form of an interview with Mr. Bradburn, who in the published statement is quoted as saying that the trees were affected with anthracnose.

Hills Are Full of Munters.

Coquille.—The mountains of both Coos and Curry counties are full of hunters since the opening of the hunting season. Already several deer have been killed near this place. Deer are quite plentiful, according to reports.

Wind Flails Grain Fields.

Pendleton.—Pendleton, was left in darkness for two hours, and Umatilla county wheat growers are heavy losers as the result of the worst dust and wind storm which has visited this region in several years.
