FOLLOWING is a little lesson in finance which illustrates very aptly the principle involved in the slogan, "Keep Your Money at Home."

Mr. Jones keeps a boarding house in a certain Oregon town. Around the dining table one evening sat Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Andrews, a milliner; Mr. White, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter and Mr. Laidlaw, a flour, feed and lumber merchant. Jones took a $10 gold piece from his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Jones with the remark that there was $10 of the $20 he had promised her.

Mrs. Jones then handed the money to Mrs. Andrews, remarking: "That pays for my new bonnet." Mrs. Andrews in turn passed it to Jordan, saying it would pay for the carpenter work he had done for her. Jordan handed it to Laidlaw, requesting a receipt for a bill for lumber. Laidlaw returned the money to Jones in settlement for his board bill. Jones again passed the gold to his wife, saying that he had now paid the $20 he had promised her, and she in turn paid it to White to settle her bread and pastry account. White handed it back to Laidlaw, requesting credit on his flour bill, and Laidlaw again returned the money to Jones saying that it settled for his month's board. Jones put it in his pocket and remarked that he had not supposed a $10 gold piece would go so far.

To illustrate the purpose of the above narration in these columns, let us suppose that Mrs. Jones had sent to an Eastern mail order house for her bonnet. The $10 would have gone out of circulation so far as Mrs. Jones' town was concerned. No better illustrations of the power of money could be had, and a better argument for buying "Made in Oregon" goods and keeping the money in the home state, instead of buying mail order goods from eastern states, could hardly be advanced.

The dealer must educate his townpeople along these lines. Residents of small cities and towns must be taught that the town life depends upon how much money is kept in circulation in the community; that for every dollar any resident spends so much is returned to him, sometimes all, as in the foregoing. Sending money away from home serves to build up other communities, which is not a bad thing. Help neighboring States when you can; it is a laudable thing, but Oregon should come first in all things, and one way to build up Oregon institutions and Oregon factories is by keeping money at home.

LOCAL ITEMS

H. Grebe showed a bunch of dry land alfalfa in this city the first of the week which is equal to much of the irrigated alfalfa which is raised throughout the country. Eight acres of Mr. Grebe's ranch were sown with this dry land seed on April 5th and it has received no moisture except the few rains which have fallen yet the stand is most excellent and stands over two feet high on the average. It might be a good idea for other farmers to think this over and try something besides wheat.

John R. Robertson, with the Remington Typewriter Co., was in this city the latter part of last week and also made a trip to Fossil. In the two towns he took orders amounting to $772, over half of which was secured in this city. This is not so bad for a county which is reported by some to be "all in."

Dr. Wood left on Thursday morning on a business trip to Mosier.

A nine-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Parman on Wednesday, August 30, 1911.

ATTENTION
Any good, industrious, honest, farmer having an outfit and wishing to take up a good farming proposition in central Alberta will do well to communicate with J. H. Watts, 548 Fourth Street, Edmonton, Alberta. If the right man should need a little financial aid for the first year, I would be pleased to assist him somewhat. Write immediately to the above address.

The Hotel Oregon has the most up-to-date service of any hotel in the county. Unsurpassed dining service.

L. K. Harlan went to Arlington on Monday on business.
