THE MERCHANT who advertises is the one who can give the buyer better values for his money. The increased volume of trade brought the merchant through his advertising allows him to carry a better assortment and also better values.

YOUR HOME newspaper heralded to the world your birth. It told of your entry in school. Mentioned your birthday when you were sweet sixteen. Applauded your graduation from high school, started you to college and when you returned mentioned the first job you secured. Told of your marriage to the sweetest girl in town and also mentioned the advent [or event] of your first born. Told of the visits of pa and ma, sympathized with you in your sorrow, laughed with you in your joy, and when you die it will do its best to get you through the pearly gates at only $1.50 per year. Now the question arises: What have you contributed to the home paper's success and prosperity?

THAT the Republican party will again be in evidence is a foregone conclusion. That it will be reorganized is also, in a certain sense, true. The reorganization will be mainly in the leadership. The old leadership did not represent the party, the new one will. The old leaders were not in harmony with the party platforms and the party sent them "where the woodbine twineth." The president might have had a second term but because he was with the leaders rather than the party, he now holds a private station. The "king of the senate" has been given an opportunity to devote himself solely to his rubber corporation, for which as "king" he did so much. The men like LaFollette, Cummins, Bristow and Kenyon who fought the leaders for years in the name of the party are today recognized as the present and coming leaders, yet not one of them has changed his statement as to the real doctrines of the party from the beginning of their contest with the "old guard" until now.

GET WISE!

This year will be a more profitable year for the farmer if he makes use of his observations and experience last year. Surely we cannot afford to make the same mistakes every year.

More Than Kind.

"In my young days," says Mr. A. J. Swinburne in "Memories of a School Inspector," "a rural school-mistress entirely misinterpreted my kindness, which was prompted by a desire to quiet her nervousness. 'I asked her is as pleasant a voice as I could summon if she could have the children recite on the 'Reindeer'." "She replied, simpering, 'I have a lesson on clouds and one on mist, but I'm sorry I have none on rain.'"
