BETTER BABIES CONTEST GROWING POPULAR

Tri-County Fair Attraction To Aid Child Welfare Movement in Eastern Oregon

What is a baby worth to your community and the race?

Long ago, statisticians figured out the earning capacity of each wee citizen until he came of age. The law has tried to settle the question by awarding certain damages to parents of children killed or injured in accidents.

To prevent this catastrophe, government—national, state and municipal—is giving much time to the consideration of child welfare. By preventive and remediat measures, adopted while the child is still in its infancy, the small body is developed to its full powers, and the race as well as the individual child profits.

The Better Babies Contest consists of a competitive examination of children to four years and under, by physicians, with prizes for the high scoring babies.

Parents are given prizes for healthy offsprings, and also score cards showing the child's exact physical condition.

SCHOOL FAIRS ORDER OF DAY

Most Extensive Agricultural Campaign Ever Organized in Northwest— Prof. Holden in Charge

Plan Unites Five Great Railroad Systems

Alfalfa Special Train to Cover Region in Washington, Idaho and Oregon Nearly 225 Miles Square—140 Stops Will Be Made on Railroad Points Where Automobiles Will Take the Speakers into the Country to the Farms

To accomplish the most in agricultural development we must begin with the man behind the crop; and to render him the most efficient service we must meet him where he lives, study his condition, and aid him according to his needs.

Such is the plan of the Alfalfa Campaign to be inaugurated in the Inland Empire on the 23rd of September, 1913.

At the request of the farmers and business men of this great agricultural region, the Spokane Chamber of Commerce secured the assistance of Prof. P. G. Holden, the most prominent agricultural scientist in the United States, to come to Spokane with his staff of twelve experts to conduct one of the most extensive agricultural campaigns ever carried on in this country.

It is essentially a campaign of the people assisted by the business men of Spokane, Prof. P. G. Holden, representing the Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey, and the following railroads: Oregon, Washington Railroad and Navigation Co., Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Spokane & Inland-Empire, Union Pacific and North Yakima & Valley Railway.

These great forces have combined and are working in concert to carry the gospel of alfalfa to the homes of the farmers.

Professor Holden, accompanied by a party of fifty or more college instructors, farmers and business men, will accompany the alfalfa special train and visit one hundred and forty towns of the Inland Empire, commencing on the 24th of September.

Leaving Spokane, the Holden party will set out to deliver nearly 700 lectures at railroad points and at the homes of the farmers.

Men of scientific and practical experience will discuss with the farmers feeds and feeding value of various crops, crops which may be used for silage, feed combinations, and the great value of alfalfa as a general farm crop.

"The campaign that I should conduct here would be unlike any agricultural work ever carried on in the United States. My plan would be to unite all interests to assist, and the prominent features would be: "First, the introduction of practically a new crop into the Pacific Northwest.

ARLINGTON NEWS

Arlington expects to be lighted with electricity the first of next month.

Fire did $500 damage to Frums barn and M. E. Weatherford's woodshed early Saturday morning. Timely discovery and the use of lots of water prevented the conflagration from scattering to other buildings.

The prize winners of the Arlington school fair are crowded out of this issue on account of lack of space.

CLEM FARMERS WAGE WAR ON THISTLE PEST

That the farmers of the Clem country are engaged in a crusade against the Russian thistle is the news brought to town last Saturday by John Weimar.

"The thistles are thicker than ever this year" said Mr. Weimar, "and the Clem ranchers are now busy weeding. Although it is a little late for this work much good can be done in ridding the soil of the pest."

Mr. Weimar reports that his fall grain harvested 20 bushels to the acre. He now has 350 acres which he will sow within a few days to Fortyfold.
