Good Money in Raising Pigs

Eight pigs, six months, 1632 pounds, $123. This is a condensed story of what has been accomplished by a farmer at Independence, Oregon. Each pig was six months old and averaged 204 pounds, making an average value of $15.38 per pig or $2.56 per month per pig. "Never let your pigs make hogs of themselves," is the advice of a prominent expert in urging farmers to hurry the growth of their pigs and thus get them to market when from six to nine months old. What this farmer did at Independence can be done in this county just as well and should be done. It means prosperity to any farmer who does it.

Give Your Farm a Name

In the east almost every farm has a name, even little patches of only eight or ten acres. It is a good idea. To describe your farm only by the numbers of the land is hardly enough. If a farmer does not have some other means of identification for his farm it would seem to indicate that he does not have much pride in his place. There are very few farms in this county which are named, The Wheatdale Stock Farm, Poplar Farm, Fairview, Buckhorn and the Plateau Farms being about the only ones and it is probable that the only one of these that is recorded is the first. It is well that every farmer should give his farm some characteristic name.

The declaration of President Wilson that the United States will recognize only such governments as rest on the consent of the governed seems to be all that could be desired.

Some idea of the size of modern ships is given by the fact that the Emperor, on a recent voyage, carried 3,649 passengers and a crew numbering 1,332, making 4,981 in all.

It has been suggested that if the government would send doughnuts to Mexico instead of dreadnaughts, it would be more to the liking of the Americans there.

The parcels post is so successful that it seems certain the postal department will hereafter yield a surplus yearly while saving the public millions that heretofore went to the express companies.

It was fifty years ago Wednesday that Lincoln said, in that immortal Gettysburg address, "that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cataract. Hall's cataract cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Cataract being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials, free. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
