LOWERING THE H. C. OF L.

Last Friday evening the members of the Baptist church in this city completely surprised their new pastor and his family in a way that will long be remembered. At 7:30 in the evening they began to arrive at the parsonage until quite a number were present, among them being Mrs. Thouvenel and two daughters, Murrell and Gladys West, Miss Lottie Keizur, Mrs. Hammack and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glover, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. Joe Mattigly and Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop and son and Jaughter. After all were present Mr. Bishop and Mr. Glover began to unload the former's big dray and there were potatoes by the sack, flour by the sack and sugar by the sack, canned goods, jars of fruit and vegetables, apples in boxes and sacks and other things too numerous to mention. The parsonage dining room looked like a grocery store. Some who had part were not there but they will be remembered. With grateful hearts the pastor and his family thank all those who had a part in the shower and pray God's blessing to be upon them and the people of Condon.

fect satisfaction at my assumption of all the responsibilities of our three existences.

And as I leaned against the deck rail and looked out into a future as limitless as that water ahead of us into which the great ship was plowing I made a remark to myself that had in it all the wisdom of those who are ignorant.

"The best of life is not to know what will happen next."

"Ah, that was so extraordinary coming from a woman that you must pardon me for listening and making exclamation," came an answer in a nice voice near at my elbow. The words were spoken in as perfect English as "I know why it is that you go to America!"

I had learned from my father, but in them I observed to be an intonation that my French ear detected as Parisian. "Also, mademoiselle, are you young women of the new era to be without that very delightful but often danger creating quality of curiosity?" As I turned I looked with startled eyes into the grave face of a man less than forty years, whose and eyes were for the moment lighting with a great tenderness which I did not understand.
