

Withycombe and Pierce Ahead for Governor; Returns Give McNary Big Lead Over Stanfield

Stewart and Wright Seem to Have Nomination Cinched for Representatives and Schroeder Wins Over Hull for Clerk; Vote Is Very Light in Gilliam

SATURDAY MORNING—The vote polled in Gilliam county in yesterday's primary election was the lightest ever cast in the county. The percentage of the total vote to the registration may be estimated at 40 percent, probably less, certainly not much more. One precinct did not open the polls at all. This was Ferry Canyon and there was nobody there to vote although a number of the voters of that precinct did come to Condon later and were sworn in at Southwest Condon precinct. The returns from over the state, as far as sent in, show that Withycombe has received the nomination for governor with Simpson second and Oleott third. This is the order in which they carried this county, according to available information. McNary will get the nomination for senator over Stanfield by two to one is the word from Portland. McNary beat Stanfield in this county. On the democratic ticket Pierce has the nomination for governor and West for senator. Stewart and Wright of Moro are ahead on all returns in this district for representatives. Schroeder received the nomination for county clerk over Hull.

This was the largest class to finish here for several years and the personnel of it is as follows: Mary O'Rourke, Bertha Haley, Cora Anderson, Nell Goodwin, Helen Summers, Mae Campbell, Vivien Austin, Lola Keizer, Della Guild, Hazel Williams, Annie O'Rourke, Inez McCauley, Merville Moore. Wednesday was Class Day and a breakfast for the members at the John Hess home started the day's program. In the afternoon the Rink was chosen for the staging of the class play, reading of the prophecy and will and the crowning of Miss Annie O'Rourke as May Queen. In the evening a dinner and dance at the Summit was enjoyed by the faculty, the class and a number of invited guests. Last night's program was one of the best ever given by a graduating class from the local high school. The first number was a quartette by the Misses Helen Summers, Rose Anderson, Nell Goodwin and Cora Anderson. This received hearty applause. Miss Cora Anderson gave the salutatory and her treatise on the American Red Cross was very interesting. Merville Moore was next with an oration on "Joan of Arc," and he discussed his subject in an able manner. "Russia" was the topic which Miss Vivien Austin chose for her thesis and she handled it in a creditable way. Miss Nell Goodwin, as valedictorian, delivered a splendid oration on "Shall We Open Our Doors to Russia?" Following this Miss Helen Summers sang a pleasing solo. Prof. Richards of Willamette University addressed the class, taking for his chief thought, "Service." He was a convincing speaker and was enjoyed by all. The diplomas were then presented by Supt. Sturgill after which Prof. Hammack awarded a scholarship to Helen Summers with Mary O'Rourke as alternate and one to Mae Campbell with Vivien Austin as alternate.

CAR LOOPS THE LOOP BUT OCCUPANTS NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED

County Agent J. C. Hawkins and Mrs. Jessie D. McComb narrowly escaped serious injury Wednesday afternoon when the Ford car in which they were riding turned over. They were on their way to Olex to attend an agricultural meeting and Mr. Hawkins was losing no time when they ran into the sand just below the Clem schoolhouse. The sand was damp and the car skidded, the right front wheel smashed and the car turned over twice. Mr. Hawkins and Mrs. McComb turned over with the car the first time and were left in the road with the cushions, oil cans and everything else the car contained. They were both bruised considerably and Mrs. McComb's arm was sprained but neither sustained any serious injury. They walked across to the railroad and came back on the train.

We captured 280 quarts of booze last night from the man who is supposed to furnish the Condon district. I don't think he will send any more over for a while. The company is doing good work here and we expect to do good work in eastern Oregon when we get there."

Gilliam Boy Writes of California Earthquake

A letter from Orfa R. Andrews of Blalock describes the recent earthquake in southern California. He is in the U. S. Navy and was stationed at San Diego. He says in part: "Just a line to say that I was in a real earthquake yesterday. It was no joke and people fainted by the score. I was standing on the largest plaza when everything began to move. Ray turned to me and said: 'What is the matter, are you rocking the boat?' We couldn't realize what was happening. I thought I was nutty for the buildings began swaying, cement walks raised up and cracked open and everybody was running. We stood and watched things fall and straighten up again. We could see 75 outlets from buildings and the way people poured out made me think of when we used to go rabbit shooting in Gilliam county, rabbits scoting from every bush, sometimes twenty at a time. From every arch the people came running as if Satan himself were after them, their hands high above their heads and many screaming but all running. I have recently taken the final examination and been promoted and it took hard work. I studied all the time I was in the hospital, 36 days, and I could see dots and dashes roll up in a ball bigger than the hospital. Ray coached me every night. He sailed for France—and we may only hope he gets back but if not the principles he or any man gives his life for will live forever. Those who are single and can fight and are too much of cowards to enlist won't make a very brave nation for the future. I was second in a class of 150 and only 60 passed. Fred Harford was sent to Florida with a flying corps. Talk of dust in Gilliam—you have very little—and nothing at all like Mexico. My next letter may be mailed far from here. We can't tell."

Mr. Andrews is a wireless operator in the navy. He still says that Gilliam county beats all of Mexico or lower California.

Eph Wilson Writes Letter from France

Eph Wilson writes from "Somewhere in France" and his letter is in part as follows: "I'm getting so many letters lately that I cannot get them answered as soon as I would like to. I'm out on a grassy hillside about five minutes from camp and it is an ideal place to write letters. There is a magpie sitting in a tree just a little distance away chattering with all its might. I guess it is spiling me a little French for I don't understand it. That's just how the French language sounds to me. Even the crows in this country make a different noise than they do in America. This is a beautiful day here and makes me halfway homesick. Clarence writes that there is no place like Alberta but I have the same idea of Oregon so he need not write me any of that old stuff. I guess that I had better finish this letter for there are about a hundred kids around me asking for souvenirs. All that I can write is that I'm well and doing fine. We can't tell where we are nor what we are doing."
