

100 PER CENT VALUES

WE HANDLE NOTHING TO SELL AT "HALF PRICE"

The plain reason we are not offering our goods at half price is that every article you purchase at our store is guaranteed to be 100 per cent value. We can sell only cheap articles at a cheap price. Houses that advertise goods at half their real value must, in the nature of things, make up the shortage from other sales or misrepresent the article sold. They "rob Peter to pay Paul" and you are as apt to be Peter as Paul. To avoid this chance trade at the 100 per cent value store

Lebanon (Ore.) Criterion. Among the many letters giving advice, we know of none with a greater "kick" than that contained in a recent letter to a Miss issippi publisher saying: "Here is my advice on how to run your paper"—Pinned to the note was a check for $1.50.

MICKIE'S COLYUM

Five thousand American Indians are in Uncle Sam's armies. Their ancestors one day made America mighty unsafe for civilization but their descendants are helping to square it by fighting on the side of civilization.

Mr. Schwab's shipbuilding slogan of "More caulking, less talking" is fine and right to the point. There are other departments which might be better for the variation, "More scheming, less dreaming."

The poorer classes in Turkey are living on chestnuts and pumpkin seeds and glad to get that much. Knowing this we can hardly object to a ration of cornmeal, oatmeal and barley flour.

It is strange that ex-Czar Nicholas has not thought of going on the lecture platform with the other ex-celebrities.

In a world full of rifles, bayonets, plows and hoes there is little room left for luxuries.

Fashion Note

Khaki or jeans are the spring and summer materials offered to men for their selection. There is a third style—horizontal stripes but this is not so popular.

Did you ever notice it? The feller who goes around sayin' he "don't believe in advertisin'" is always makin' some other stone age crack, such as "Autos aint come to stay 'tweene jest a passin' fad."

CHAPTER XXVI.

All Quiet (?) on the Western Front.

At brigade headquarters I happened to overhear a conversation between our G. O. C. (general officer commanding) and the divisional commander. From this conversation I learned that we were to bombard the German lines for eight days, and on the first of July the "big push" was to commence.

In a few days orders were issued to that effect, and it was common property all along the line.

On the afternoon of the eighth day of our "strafing," Atwell and I were sitting in the front-line trench smoking fags and making out our reports of the previous night's tour of the trenches, which we had to turn in to headquarters the following day, when an order was passed down the trench that Old Pepper requested twenty volunteers to go over on a trench raid that night to try and get a few German prisoners for information purposes. I immediately volunteered for this job, and shook hands with Atwell, and went to the rear to give my name to the officers in charge of the raiding party.

I was accepted, worse luck. At 9:45 that night we reported to the brigade headquarters dugout to receive instructions from Old Pepper.

After reaching this dugout we lined up in a semicircle around him, and he addressed us as follows:

"All I want you boys to do is to go over to the German lines tonight, surprise them, secure a couple of prisoners, and return immediately. Our artillery has bombarded that section of the line for two days and personally I believe that that part of the German

NOT A SACRIFICE

It is well to get a correct line on the various calls that are being made and will be made on our purses before the war ends and in the first place we must get the distinction between giving and lending. Our government has not asked and probably will not ask for one cent of gift money. The extent of its call is for loans—and for loans on which it will pay fair rates of interest. The man or woman who buys War Savings Stamps or Liberty Bonds does not sacrifice for the cause in the sense in which we usually employ the word. At the most this action entails but a temporary inconvenience in diverting our means to different channels from those in which we are accustomed to use them. In the end we have the full worth of our money in the soundest securities on earth—the promise of the U. S. government to pay. Now our government wants to know before June 28, next Friday, just how many War Savings Stamps we are going to buy this year. Such knowledge will have a direct bearing on the next Liberty Loan our government will ask for. We do not have to buy our share of these Savings Stamps before the 28, but our government expects us to give our pledge before that date of the amount we will so invest before the end of this year. Gilliam county's quota is $82,000. Let's back up our government, pledge the whole amount before next Friday and then go and buy them. Or buy them now—any way to help out. And remember—while we're helping—it's the safest investment in the world.

THIS MAN DOES KNOW

Quite often we hear about the fellow who "knows" more about "how to run a newspaper" than the man who has devoted the best part of his life trying to learn the game. Occasionally a real gem comes to light, says the
