Winter blues concert coming to History Center

On Friday, Feb. 26, at 7 p.m. the Cannon Beach History Center & Museum welcomes an American great, Lauren Sheehan.

Sheehan is a multi-talented blues and folk musician. She plays guitar, mandolin, and banjo while singing. Sheehan is considered a charismatic interpreter of songs learned from some of America's greatest folk and blues artists.

Sheehan studied classical guitar as a child and became infected by the spirit of the fiddle. She wrote her thesis at Reed College on American Folk music before spending a number of years playing in small ensembles. She brings a passion and knowledge to each performance that adds a feeling of authenticity.

In 2015, Sheehan released two new albums "Lauren Sheehan: Songster Roots of Americana" and another album that she did with her daughter called "Tillamook Burn," which reached number six on folk radio. She has performed all over the United States, and appeared on the nationally syndicated radio show "River City Folk."
