

NORTH COAST LAND CONSERVANCY

Volunteers mulching the trails at Circle Creek.

Help tidy the trails at Circle Creek Conservation Center

The conservancy is seeking volunteers for a trails stewardship day at its Circle Creek Conservation Center on Saturday, April 14, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. to get the trails ready for the season. Volunteers will help with activities that may include brushing out and mulching the 2.4-mile Wetlands Walk and 0.8-mile Legacy Loop and repairing anything disturbed by winter storms and flooding.

Contact stewardship director Melissa Reich at melissar@nclctrust.org in advance for directions to the property and to let her know you're coming. Bring a lunch and work gloves if you have them, and prepare to get muddy. Dogs are not allowed on habitat reserves.

Police academy teaches skills to public

Program aims to educate citizens about different aspects of law enforcement

Cannon Beach Gazette

The Clatsop County Citizen's Police Academy is back for its 11th year, aimed at community members who have an interest in law enforcement and want to learn more about their local police agencies.

Classes will be held every Tuesday evening from 6 to 9 p.m., running from April 17 to June 5.

"Our goal is to educate citizens about the different aspects of law enforcement and strengthen our community ties," according to Cannon Beach Police Chief Jason Schermerhorn.

Participants will have an opportunity to learn about each department, tour facilities, learn about crime scenes, learn how to use the Taser and other weapons, tour the jail and participate in confrontational scenarios that officers often handle on the job.

Those interested must be 18 years old or older, and all applicants are subject to a criminal background check. Applications are due by April 10. To request an application, or for additional information, please contact Cannon Beach Police Department at 503-436-2811.
