Needlecraft Club Meeting.

Thursday afternoon the needlecraft club resumed its meetings which had been postponed for the last three or four weeks, and met at Mrs. Wirt Sappington. The many forms of needlework and pleasant social chat made the hours pass most pleasantly, and delicious refreshment added to the pleasure of the occasion. The beautiful hydrangia were used for decorations in the rooms.

SURPRISE PARTY AT MEDA

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Hollingsworth, residents of Meda, were pleasantly surprised on the anniversary of Mrs. Hollingsworth, last Saturday when a number of their neighbors and friends walked in unannounced to help celebrate the occasion. The hours of the day were delightfully whiled away in music and social conversation. After a tastily served dinner prepared by the hostess with delectable refreshments supplied by the guests all present assembled on the lawn while Mrs. Adelia Weiss took several photos of the group, this as a memento of the day host and hostess, at a late hour in the afternoon the guests departed for their respective homes having thoroughly enjoyed the day and genial hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth. Those present were:

SCHOOL NOTES

1 After enjoying a three month's vacation another school year is before us—a year filled with opportunities and possibilities. From the enthusiasm displayed by the majority of the pupils we have every reason to expect a very profitable year's work.

2 Everyone is delighted with the improvements made upon and around the building during the summer, which add greatly, not only to the appearance, but to the comfort.

3 The total enrollment at this time is about sixty, the number being quite evenly divided between the rooms. Owing to the large class of beginners, it was necessary to move the fifth grade into the grammar room.

4 A new current events class has been organized in connection with the history and reading work.

5 There are seven scholars taking the ninth grade. The pupils in this class show that they are going to get the most possible out of the years work by the start they are making. They seem to have in mind the old, but excellent maxim, 'Well begun is half done'.

6 There are at present more pupils in the grammar room than can be comfortably seated. New desks have been ordered, however which will probably be here before long.

7 Monday, Sept. 14, being the one-hundredth anniversary of the writing of our national song "The Star Spangled Banner", the schools in the state at the request of superintendent Churchill, sang this song at twelve o'clock. The teachers were asked to tell, at this time the history of the song.
