FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1915

Anyway, when a man accuses his wife of having married him for his money he pays a tribute to her good sense.

Eighty-two railroads in the United States are running under the management of receivers. And what is more, they are making money, which indicates that the directors made a mistake in not selecting these same men for their managers before.

William Jennings Bryan gives unstinted praise to President Wilson before a Nashville audience for the able manner in which he has handled the international affairs. W. J. B. should remember that the president's stiff backbone has been kept in place by a capable secretary of state.

JOE CANNON, COME-BACKER.

Uncle Joe Cannon is not dead yet, says an exchange. He is very much alive—so much so in fact that he spoke at a county fair the other day, and a man of his age who can get up before and entertain a county fair audience, in opposition to the attractions in the cattle sheds and sheep department, must be possessed of magnetism sufficient to operate a wireless station.

On the occasion of that speech, Uncle Joe intimated that he was still in the running and was willing to run for congress-at-large next year. Or he would run again in his own district, or step aside for some other republican.

This vigorous old campaigner, who stands sponsor for Pittsburg stogies and stand-patism, is really a remarkable character. He entered congress in 1873, and served every term since, except that beginning in 1891 and that beginning in 1913, making a total of twenty terms. There is probably no equal record in the country.

THE SLAB CREEK SAGE SAYS

Borrowed umbrellas cast the shadow of suspicion.

Blessed is the peacemaker if he keeps at a safe distance.

It's almost as bad to say mean things as it is to do them.

The less brains a man has the easier it is for him to lose his head.

One kind of a hypocrite is a man who pretends to be busy when he isn't.

A mere change of one vowel transforms vocation into vacation.

Do we deserve the good opinion of those who do think well of us?

GOOD ADVICE.

My advice is that you endeavor to be honestly rich or contentedly poor. In the next place, look to your health, and if you have it praise God and value it next to a good conscience. As for money, neglect it not, but note that there is no necessity of being rich, for there be as many miseries beyond riches as on this side of them, and if you have competence enjoy it with a meek, thankful heart.—Izaak Walton.

Different.

"Your wife came from a fine old family, didn't she?" "No. She brought them with her."—Judge.

When It Is.

"Pa, is marriage a failure?" "Usually, my boy, if a man marries for money."—Detroit Free Press.

Her Quick Wit.

He—Do you object to my lighting this cigar? She—No. But must you go so soon?—Puck.

On Installments.

"Is this piano yours?" "Oh, about an octave of it."—Boston Transcript.

The Remedy.

"That man has an icy manner." "Then give him a few melting glances."—Baltimore American.

George I. of England.

The king of England who could not speak the language of his kingdom was George I.

Calculating.

He—My income is $5,000. She—How much more than that will it be safe for us to spend?—Life.

Starting Trouble.

"My husband says he has an idea"—"Your husband always is boasting."—Houston Post.

Bag and Sack.

"So Bob didn't bag the heiress?" "No. She gave him the sack."—Baltimore American.

An Exception.

Jinks—Most things that are bought go to the buyer. Jenks—Yes, all except coal; that goes to the cellar.

Victoria Falls.

The African name for the Victoria falls is "Most on tunja," which means "smoke thunders here."

A Heavy Watch.

A watch carried by the Emperor Charles V. in 1530 weighed twenty-seven pounds.

Quite Natural.

"Did your wife die a natural death?" "Oh, yes. She was talking when the end came."—Cleveland Leader.

The Blood.

The amount of blood in the human body is one-thirteenth of the body weight.

Argentina.

Argentina has over 3,000 miles of seaboard and a network of interior waterways.

Gold and Silver.

One cubic foot of gold weighs 1,120 pounds—almost twice as much as the same quality of silver.

Freezing Water.

The sea freezes at 29 degrees F., and fresh water lakes freeze at 32 degrees F.

Audacity.

With audacity one can undertake anything, but one cannot accomplish everything.—Napoleon.
