AND OTHER NEWS OF INTEREST

H. A. Miles, of Woods, was in town Wednesday.

An epidemic of grip is keeping the doctor busy.

See A. H. Harris' Christmas jewelry ad in this issue.

Ed McGlinchy, of Meda, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

If you have a calf you can't kill call up the butcher. He will pay you cash.

Take the old reliable White stage for a comfortable, safe and sure trip to Tillamook.

Miss Mildred Ford is quite ill this week and narrowly averted an attack of pneumonia.

Take a look at the Ivory Pyraline at High's, if you wish a nice gift for mother, wife, sister or sweetheart.

Get yourself a new Suit of Clothes for Christmas. $5.00 down, $5.00 a month. See Geo. Worthington, Cloverdale, Ore.

There is nothing surer or safer than a trip on the old reliable White stage. A comfortable ride and courteous treatment.

The biggest house of the season witnessed the moving picture show last Saturday night. Another good show tomorrow night.

Have arranged with the Brownsville Woolen Mills so you can get good clothes $5.00 down, $5.00 a month. See Geo. Worthington.

Clarence Hushbeck is able to navigate only with the use of crutches. He stuck his foot under a gasoline engine while in motion and had the top of his foot badly lacerated.

Teachers' examination for State Certificates will be held in the court house, Tillamook, commencing Wednesday, December, 15, and continuing until Saturday afternoon.

Ralp Dunn and Miss Esther Johnson were married at North Yamhill on the 19th and came over to the Nestucca valley last Saturday to make their home here. Best wishes from many friends are extended them.

Dr. J. G. Turner, formerly of Lowe & Turner, eye specialists of Portland, will be in Cloverdale again Monday, December 20th, at Cloverdale Hotel. Don't fail to consult Dr. Turner about your eyes and glasses. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened. No charge for consultation or examination.

Owing to a change in the time of the passenger train leaving Tillamook I will leave Cloverdale with my passenger car every morning not later than 7:15. Parties of four residing a short distance from town I will call for them, making only a reasonable additional charge.—W. H. Jones.

The Della went on the north spit last Sunday in an endeavor to make this port. At low tide she was high and dry on the sand and her deck load and a good portion of her other cargo was taken off. A cable was stretched across the channel and with each high tide an effort was made to get her into deep water. The tide this morning was larger than the others and she was hauled into the channel without any difficulty.

A postcard from J. O. Foster, dated Wheeler, Illinois, November 22, was received by the Courier. Mr. Foster says they are well and thinking of Cloverdale. He also added that the weather was getting cold there.

We are sorry to say that a very small crowd profited by the traveling school of the Oregon Agricultural College held here this week Tuesday and Wednesday. The talks were instructive and interesting and much good have been had by attending.

The entertainment given by the orchestra at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening was well attended and much appreciated. Some changes had to be made in the program owing to the illness of Miss Ford. Profs. Lamb and Larson of O. A. C., with their stereopticon views and talk royally made up the deficiency. The proceeds of the entertainment were about $30.

Let George Do It.

Measure you up for that new Suit of Clothes. Made up by Brownsville Woolen Mills at Portland. Quick delivery. $5.00 down and $5.00 a month. See Geo. Worthington, Cloverdale.

Great are those 25c dinners at the Ramsey Hotel dining room, Tillamook, Ore.

The Arctic Summer.

The arctic summer is brief, but for weeks together there is nothing to distinguish day and night. Once at Dvornik two naturalists had left their ship at different hours. When later they met one said, "Good morning," the other, "Good evening." Both agreed that the hour was 7, but while one traveler held that it was 7 tomorrow morning the other maintained that it was 7 o'clock last night. On returning to the ship they settled that it was last night, so they dined and went to bed again.

Eggs of Crabs and Lobsters.

Crabs and lobsters are hatched from eggs, resembling upon birth nothing so much as the animalculae shown by the microscope in a drop of ditch water. They are as unlike the shellfish they are to become in mature life as a grub is unlike a butterfly. In the case of the crab the egg clusters are attached beneath the animal after extrusion, while with the lobster they become fastened to the tail, which by its fanning motion increases the stream of oxygenated air through and among the ova.
