The place to take the true measure of a man is not at the market place or the amen corner, not the forum or the field, but at his own fireside. There he lays aside his mask and you may learn whether he is imp or angel, king or cur, hero or humbug. We care not what the world says of him—whether it crown him with jewels or pelt him with bad eggs, we care never a copper what his reputation may be. If his babies dread his coming home and better half swallows her heart every time she asks him for a five dollar bill, he's a fraud of the first water, even though he prays night and morn till he is black in the face and howls hallelujah till he shakes the eternal hills.

Funeral of Miss Scherzinger.
The funeral of Miss Lorena Scherzinger, who died at Heppner last week Wednesday, was held at the Oretown church Sunday afternoon and the remains laid at rest in the Oretown cemetery. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. F. S. Ford, of Cloverdale, and the attendance was the largest of any funeral ever held from the church at that place. The services were under the direction of the Oretown Grange, of which the deceased and her parents were members. The local lodge of Masons of which Mr. Scherzinger is a member, also attended in a body. The flowers were many and beautiful, the mound at the grave being completely covered.

At school Miss Scherzinger was a bright child and had hoped to complete the eighth grade this year, but failing health necessitated her absence from school and in hopes of effecting a permanent cure her parents last November took her to Heppner where the best medical aid was summoned. A spinal tubercular trouble had made such inroads upon the health of the young lady despite the efforts of the best medical science her life could not be spared. She never gave up, but bore her affliction bravely, hoping and expecting to soon return to her home. Wednesday evening after her parents had retired they were notified that their daughter was rapidly sinking and before they could reach her bedside the child had passed away.

This is the first affliction of this kind the parents and brothers and sisters have had to suffer and the sympathy of everyone is with them. Scarcely a dry eye was to be seen among the large number of friends that assembled to pay their respect to their deceased friend and share the burden of the parents and relatives.

Obituary—Lorena Scherzinger was born at Oretown, March 2, 1902, and died at Heppner, Oregon, on Wednesday, May 24, 1916, being 14 years, 2 months and 16 days old. She leaves a father, mother, two brothers and three sisters, to mourn her death.

Horse Backs Off Grade.

Last Friday while Mrs. Drebert was returning home with her horse and buggy she met an automobile on the south approach of the Farmer grade. The horse backed off the grade, the buggy tipping entirely over and the horse falling against Mrs. Drebert. The auto, which had been brought to a standstill before the accident occurred, was driven by Mr. Baker, of Beaver. He, with other members of his auto load, rendered all the assistance possible and took the injured lady to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Farmer where medical aid was summoned. Dr. Shearer arrived and found the lady's collar bone fractured as was also a couple of her ribs, and she was otherwise bruised and injured.

At this writing Mrs. Drebert is getting along as well as could be expected.
