Representative Houston, of Portland, made the Courier office a pleasant call last week Thursday. Mr. Houston is a candidate on the Republican ticket for state senator.

Heavy rains the first of the week made it difficult for autoists to get in and out of the county. It is reported fifteen had to be hauled out over the Dolph Hill Sunday.

One hundred and fifty-two have signed the new petition for the Hudson road, and we believe this petition is so constructed as to stand the test as regards the legal points, at least we hope so. This is an improvement that should be made. The time is short when roads will be maintained in undesirable places even though it takes some persuasion and expense to put them in their proper places.

Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, national lecturer of the W. C. T. U., and at present special representative of the Dry Committee, will speak at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, September 8th, at 8 o'clock. Everyone should make a special effort to hear her, as she is likely to be the best speaker on the temperance question it will be our privilege to hear during this campaign. Mrs. Unruh will speak at the Oretown Grange Saturday afternoon and at Beaver Saturday evening. By all means, hear one or more of these lectures. Admission free. Collection taken.

P. M. Stiverson for photo work.

H. B. Lockwood leaves this week to visit "the old home" in Kentucky.

Mrs. V. A. Spaulding and children went to Portland Monday where Master Everett will be treated by a specialist. They were accompanied by Mrs. Spaulding's mother and father.

One of the prettiest and most impressive programs that has been given here took place last Saturday, when the Grange dedicated their new flag. As the last verse of America was sung, May Imlah, dressed in white with a golden crown on her head, slowly raised the flag to the top of the staff. As the flag started up every head was uncovered, and one had only to glance up or down the street to realize the loyalty of our citizens to the stars and stripes. After the Star Spangled Banner was sung the members returned to the lodge room where the program was finished, which was appreciated by all who witnessed it.

Mrs. Frank Worthington Passes Away.

Sorrow and regret were expressed by everyone when news of the death of Mrs. Frank Worthington, of Tillamook, was received Wednesday afternoon. She had been in poor health for some time although able to be around and attending her home duties most of the time. The first of the week she had a bad spell and the children were all sent for, and with the exceptions of two sons, George and Ed and daughter Edna they were all with her at the time of her demise.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthington were among the pioneers of Tillamook county and at different times lived in Nehalem, Bay City, Cloverdale and Tillamook and in each place she had a wide circle of friends, for to know her was to love her, a splendid Christian lady, an ardent church worker and an adorable wife and mother. She was a neighbor that everyone looked to in time of trouble, feeling sure of her ready help and sympathy.

The funeral service will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church in Tillamook. Those left to mourn her demise are her husband, the sons George of Loraine, Ed and Chester, of Cloverdale, Ernest and Elbert, of Mohler, and daughters Mesdames Chas. Smith and Elmer Webb, of Cloverdale, and Mrs. Edna Holland, of Wendling, and a host of friends throughout Tillamook county.

High School Notes.

The high school is settling down to the regular hum of good work. At present the enrollment is 15 with a good prospect of four more Monday. Some pupils are delayed in coming because they have had trouble in finding a place to stay, but Mr. Spauldings will give a girl a chance to stay with them and go to school.

The addition of another year's work with another teacher has at least doubled the value of our high school and the fact that we are able to have 45-minute recitations in which to present the subject matter further increases the value of the school till it is, to say the least, three times as good as it was last year, to say nothing about the manifested desire on the part of teachers and pupils to make this the best year of school work Cloverdale has ever had.

To those who expect to take advantage of this great year of good work we earnestly say, "be ready to enter your class by Monday, the 11th. Soon the work will be too far advanced for you to enter.

Why He Resigned.

"So you resigned?"
"Yes. I couldn't stand the way the firm treated me."
"What did they do?"
"Took my name off the pay roll."—Exchange.

Sarah's Request.

Doctor (to his cook, who is just leaving)—Sarah, I am very sorry, but I can only give you a very indifferent character. Sarah—Well, sir, never mind. Just write it like you do your prescriptions.—Stray Stories.

Testing Diamonds.

In order to determine accurately the nature of diamonds it is well to breathe on them. Then they lose for a moment their luster, and the eye is then better enabled, says the Scientific American supplement, to examine them and distinguish their faults. The real diamond becomes clear much sooner than the false.

Mark Antony's Mistake.

At a performance of "Julius Caesar" at Hurst college. England, Mark Antony made a mistake when the dead body of Caesar was brought in. He apostrophized the fallen hero with impassioned eloquence, and the audience felt acutely for the poor citizens, who were all presumably horror stricken and overcome with grief, when Antony gently, but firmly, grasped, as he thought, the face cloth and slowly, very slowly, began to draw it back. Just then an excited whisper came from the other end of the corpse, "This end, you fool!" But Antony was inexorably wrapped in grief. He persevered and disclosed to the intently gazing audience Julius Caesar's boots!
