WASTE OF PUBLIC MONEY

In older countries like Great Britain the census is taken and made public in twenty-four hours.

In our country the census bureau has become a continuous burden and is continually seeking new jobs.

To keep the army that is employed in the bureau busy they are investigating what it costs to deliver groceries.

The census experts pretend to believe that the high cost of living is due to the high cost of operating delivery wagons.

What the government intends to do about it after they find out what it costs no one knows—probably set more officials to work.

It might be all right for the government to spend a lot of money on this work if it had not already been done very thoroughly.

The Harvard college bureau of business research has already made this investigation and furnishes it free to any merchant.

Of course, it has one drawback in that it was done without an appropriation from congress.

It looks as if the functions of the government were being expanded for the purpose of making jobs.

THINK BEFORE YOU VOTE

Here are some facts you ought to know before you make up your mind just how you are going to vote this coming November: Vote for the brewers' amendment and you will have open saloons on every cross roads disguised as brewery agents. You will also open up drug store saloons by permitting sale of every kind of liquor "for medicinal purposes" and make unscrupulous doctors rich writing prescriptions. You will also make all present regulations unenforceable, increase importations, send more money out of the state and put the brewery combine back in control of politics. Vote 315—X—No and keep Oregon in the list of states that stands for something besides booze.

Since Oregon has been in the dry column penitentiary commitments have been decreased 42 per cent, the average arrests have decreased nearly one-half and savings bank accounts have increased, so has the cash business, the unemployment of labor has been practically eliminated, and the loganberry business put on the map. If your aim is to decrease state taxes and live in a community you will feel proud of vote 316—X—Yes.
