THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1917.

The season for camping is delightful and now is the time to enjoy the beauties of the camping grounds of Pacific City and Neskowin.

It will be to your interest to be at the dedication of the Sour Grass Road next Saturday. Don't get drowsy on the job, be on hand and urge the building of other good roads, especially the hard surfacing of the roads that the state will help to hard surface.

Campers are a month late in coming to the camping grounds hereabouts, but from the great number that are seen daily passing Cloverdale going to Pacific City or Neskowin it looks as if the excess in numbers will more than make up for the lateness of their arrival.

The largest crowd that ever assembled in this end of the county should be at the dedication of the Sour Grass road Saturday. It's a big thing and should have your enthusiasm. Make a holiday of it, and every soul living north of the south county line be there to greet the Governor and others that will be on hand.

Everyone in this end of Tillamook County should attend the dedication of the Sour Grass Road Saturday. This will show the governor of the state and others that may come with him our interest in good roads and may help to hasten the state board to act in regard to the hard surfacing of other projects in the county.

INTOLERABLE NUISANCES.

It is beyond the average mind to understand why the two noted anarchists, Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, have been allowed to run at large these many years.

Both of them have become intolerable nuisances.

They have become enemies of the United States government, enemies of our social fabric, enemies of everything that this country stands for, and yet we have permitted them to remain out of jail where they can spread their anarchistic and degrading literature with impunity.

They have gone about the country, flaunting the red flag and what it symbolizes with the utmost brazenness. When not otherwise engaged, they carry on their teachings of lawlessness in New York city.

They snap their fingers in the faces of the courts, tear down the social ethics of the land and engage in practices which the law of the land prohibits.

Thus far they have escaped any long sentence in prison. The inside of jails they have seen, but they have emerged therefrom more bitter and more denunciatory against the government.

Both proudly confess to be anarchists. The police know them to be anarchists. And the Washington government are also informed.

And the wonder is that they were not sent to prison years ago.

Their last offense in New York has put them in jail with bonds fixed at $25,000 each. Their bail should be made so high as to be prohibitive. They should be kept behind bars. And in the case now against them, if found guilty, it is hoped they will be given the limit of the law.

If not found guilty, Berkman and Goldman should be deported, via the submarine zone.

COUNTY FAIR NOTES.

As the time for the County Fair is nearing the crops are maturing and in order to have a complete exhibition we must begin early and as it is about time to begin gathering the grasses and forage crop the first consideration is to select the best. The object of the fair is to furnish object lessons for better work in all of our local industries by placing the best product on exhibition.

In the preparation of samples of cereals, the exhibitor should remove all leaves. This process is known as stripping the straw. The separate straws after having the leaves removed should be laid into neat bundles as possible. This can be done by laying a row of heads in an even line on a work bench and then laying another row on top of the first row with the ends of the heads drawn back a little, possibly one-sixteenth of an inch, although the exact amount varies somewhat with the crop. For instance, the second row of oat heads could be placed a little farther back from the front than the second row of wheat heads. This process is continued until sufficient straws have been laid to make the required three-inch bundle. After the straws are laid out in this shape, they can be tied up with galvanized stove-pipe wire. The wire is placed under the bundle and the two ends crossed after which they may be twisted until the band is tight with a pair of pliers. The rough ends are then cut off and the twisted portion of the wire which is left about one-half inch in length is bent down even with the bundle. After the bundle is tied up tightly with the wire bands, the lower ends of the straw are trimmed off. The trimming can be done quite accurately with a corn knife although some prefer to use a saw. After the bundle is complete it can be hung up downward on a wire stretched across the room or can be tacked to the side of the work room with a headless nail.

The grass and forage crop bundles can be prepared in the same way except that care should be taken not to strip the leaves off of the plants. In the case of cereals, the head is the most important part. To make the bundles of forage crops show up well, the material should be cured in a room where there is very little light but plenty of circulation of air. If the specimens are gathered and hung up heads downward in bundles not exceeding six inches in diameter at the point where they are tied, they will cure out nicely in such a room if conditions are provided as described above.

Any information or assistance needed will be gladly given by your manager, Ben Kuppenbender.

Notice of Sheriff Sale.

WOODS ITEMS.

Mr. Charland and Barney Randell are making an extended trip over the mountains. They expect on their return to bring Mr. Randell's mother and perhaps two or three others.

Work has commenced in earnest on the mill at Pacific City. It is being thoroughly overhauled and will be an up-to-date little plant.

Mr. Hunter and Mr. Turner have been quite successful with their deep-sea fishing operations and seem to find ready sale for their catch.

Dr. Montgomery and his U. S. class of boys and girls made a trip by boat to Cloverdale, then on foot to Hebo Sunday night, taking part there in some of the exercises of the evening.

Mr. Beals has begun the construction of a fine new building on the camp ground, where a number of campers have taken early quarters.

Next Sunday will be the regular monthly meeting of the mission. Why not spend the day with us? There will be morning and evening service.

Dave McCracken returned home from Miami Thursday.

Mr. Garrett captured a sealion weighing about one ton.

A lady from Kansas is visiting here, this being her first opportunity to view the Pacific. Words fail to express her appreciation of this place.

You might as well give it up, if you attempt to leave this place during the summer you will surely return, as has been proven by several of our boys.

Correspondence Lessons in Harmony and Composition

BY

DR. ALFRED WOOLER

Composer, Teacher and Director

All musicians, whether director, teacher, pianist or vocalist should understand Harmony. Instruction in this branch of study should, whenever possible, be taken from an expert teacher. However, it is not always convenient, nor possible for one to leave town and study in person with such a teacher.

For the accommodation of such Dr. Alfred Wooler, of Buffalo, N. Y., has perfected a most thorough course in Harmony and Composition that is simple, concise and practical, which he teaches successfully by mail.

If interested, write for prospectus and rates.

Address

Alfred Wooler, Mus. Doc.

Suite C, 322 West Utica St.,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

P. S.—Dr. Wooler also corrects amateurs' musical compositions, and writes music to poems. Those desiring such service must send their M. S. or poem for estimate of cost. Prices are reasonable.

THE GOOD JUDGE FINDS W-B TOBACCO POPULAR AT THE POST EXCHANGE.

COLONEL, I HEARD YOU SPEAK OF WANTING SOME W-B CUT TOBACCO, SO I'VE BEEN SCOUTING AND HERE IT IS!

SERGEANT, YOUR LOYALTY IS APPRECIATED, I SHALL RECOMMEND YOUR PROMOTION.

YOUR soldier is all business, from reveille to taps —no room for excess baggage with him. He has no use for a big plug of coarse leaf, all loaded up with heavy syrup—what he wants is tobacco satisfaction. The little sappy chew of W-B CUT checks up with his idea of what's good. Out on a lonely outpost, it's mighty sociable and satisfying; and my, how it does last!
