George Stiverson spent the night of the Fourth with his Cloverdale relatives. He is serving in the postal department in the navy yards at Bremerton.

The rates at the Louvre restaurant in Tillamook are no higher than at other eating places and the tables are as inviting and the edibles as appetizing as those you find in the larger cities.

A good sized crowd attended the Fourth of July celebration at Neskowin and it is reported that a good time was had, that the Neskowin people could themselves to make it pleasant and interesting for their guests.

We can sell you a first-class range at a price much lower than you can buy one elsewhere. We are direct agents for the manufacturers, the Portland Stove Works, and you save the eastern freight and the middle man's profit. Tillamook Furniture Co., Allan Page, Prop.

A social dance will be given at the Pacific City hall Saturday evening, July 7. The music will be of the best. It will be furnished by the Faulconer orchestra of Sheridan. Dancing to commence at 8:30 p. m. You are all cordially invited to attend and participate in the pleasures of the evening.

A marriage license was issued July 3 to Henry Burke, a recent arrival from Hebo and a relative of J. L. Burke, of this place, and Miss Alma Landingham, one of Cloverdale's charming young ladies. When the ceremony was performed or who performed it we were unable to learn. Good wishes of all follow the young couple.

Tillamook's Fourth of July celebration was a grand success. The speaking by local talent was good and the singing, especially that of the quartet, fine. A noticeable feature was the splendid order that prevailed throughout the day. The parade was very short but the magnificent float that headed the parade and the splendid appearance of the soldier boys made up for all deficiencies.

That in or around Cloverdale there is a person who has neither sense or common respectability was evidenced Tuesday morning when it was discovered that the ropes holding a new banner across the street had been cut. Why a community should be disgraced with a hoodlum guilty of doing a dirty piece of work of this kind is beyond our comprehension.

DEDICATION OF SOUR GRASS ROAD

A Big Enthusiastic Crowd Witnessed the Exercises.

Last Saturday was a holiday for a large number of Tillamook county people. About 600 wended their way to the county line dividing Tillamook and Yamhill counties and there participated in the dedication of the Sour Grass road. Seventy automobiles were parked on the grounds.

The forenoon was spent in visiting and after lunch speechmaking was the order.

Toastmaster Shrode in well selected remarks introduced as the first speaker Gov. Withycombe, who entertained his hearers with a good talk on the benefits of good roads and closed by stating that he welcomed the day when every road in Oregon could be traveled on "high."

Several other speakers were introduced and all spoke in high terms of their appreciation of the splendid piece of highway that the crowd had assembled to dedicate.

Every remark made by the speakers was in accord with the views of the people that listened and all in all it was one of those good meetings that will long be remembered as a "get together" affair.

Royal Venetian Band Coming to Chautauqua

Band Which Delighted Thousands at Newport Beach to Tour West

THE Royal Venetian Band, conducted by Signor Joseph Lo Zito, famous Italian Director, gives two concerts on the fourth day of Chautauqua, one of the most liberal band contracts ever made. Last summer the Royal Venetian Band played during the entire season at Newport Beach, R. I., one of the most exclusive pleasure resorts in the world. The Newport Beach Association says of Signor Joseph Lo Zito and the Royal Venetians: "They furnished the music at this Resort the past season to the unquestioned satisfaction of the Association and its patrons. Their concerts were attended by larger audiences than have patronized any band concerts heretofore given at this Beach by any organization."

Mary Adel Hays, American prima donna soprano of New York, has been specially engaged as soloist for the evening concerts. She has been described by "Musical America," the great musical authority, as "having a voice of beautiful quality, marked technical skill, excellent style and taste."
