THE DRIVE IS ON.

Have You Bought a Liberty Loan Bond?

The great drive for the sale of the second Liberty Loan Bonds is now well advanced.

We should not let the drive cease for even a moment.

The government must have the money to finance the war and the citizens are in duty bound to buy the bonds. You only loan the government the money same as you would a friend.

What better friend have you got than the United States government?

There is plenty of money in the Nestucca valley that can be invested in Liberty Loan Bonds and we can make a hit by subscribing liberally to the sale of the bonds.

There will be a meeting held in Cloverdale Saturday night and speakers will be secured, if possible, to talk on the purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds. It is proposed to have the meeting in the hall at the close of the moving picture show.

WOODS ITEMS.

Thos. Widner has returned from the valley, but his wife is remaining with her father who is very low, of cancer of the stomach.

CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Friend Suggests Possible Explanation for Affection Displayed by Squirrel for Farmer.

J. Monroe Fitch, former representative in the lower house of the Indiana general assembly, who is by way of being one of the big farm owners of Delaware county, in showing a company of friends over his big stock farm near Yorktown, relates the Indianapolis News, called special attention to the fact that a number of pet squirrels lived in the trees near the tenant house that were so tame they treated those about the farm as affectionately as though they (the squirrels) were kittens.

"Why there's one fox squirrel among 'em," Fitch told his visitors, "that's so tame he runs to meet me and climbs on my shoulder whenever he notices me come in the gate. If that doesn't prove that even wild animals have affection and sense, what does it prove, I'd like to know?"

"Well, since you've asked the question," said one of his visitors, ever so kindly, "it might prove that he thinks you're a nut."

SAD VERSES BY WOMAN POET

India's New Woman Writer Lays Bare Her Loneliness in Unusually Beautiful Poems.

How would you like to have the pleasant little name of Anangomohini Barnam, to be the daughter of his highness the late Maharaja Birechanda Manike Bahadur of Tipperah and to marry a man by the name of late Prime Minister Gopik Ushira Deb Barman?

This is the young poetess in India. She is one of the proteges of Tagore, and her poems have been ranked very high. That a purdah woman should express herself as freely and completely as Anangomohini is a rare thing.

Her poems are all sad and full of such thoughts as these when she says: "In the silent garden of my heart," "In the lonesome hour of my silent soul," or "In the silent sky of my being." But her poems are beautiful in this sadness and lay bare all too well the loneliness which must be a woman's who in her country really thinks and really feels.—Exchange.

Thomas A. Edison

You would go miles to hear Anna Case sing

"The Star Spangled Banner"

and Arthur Middleton sing

"America."

It has been proved many times in public that their magnificent voices are literally Re-Created by the New Edison and that their voices cannot be detected from the New Edison's Re-Creation of them when heard in comparison. We are very anxious to have you hear these Re-Creations. We are sure you will appreciate them.

There are many sound reproducing machines, but there is only one instrument which Re-Creates Music. It is the New Edison, "The Phonograph With a Soul."
