WOODS ITEMS.

Mrs. Belding's house is fast nearing completion. She is expecting to move in within a few days.

Nets and more nets, boats and more boats. The fish that run in the Nestucca river this year will be in danger.

The government inspector of mills made the Pacific City mill a visit this week.

The box factory at Pacific City is running quite steady these days. However, it is up hill business getting the shooks out over the new plank road. Almost every truck rests for awhile in the middle of the steep grade, and the pile of boxes there is on the increase.

Mr. Ward was a Tillamook visitor Monday.

Carlson, Northrup and Montgomery will be at Oretown church Sunday morning and afternoon. All cordially invited to attend the services.

Mr. Dickinson, of Oregon City, is repairing his boat and installing a motor for fishing purposes.

If you meet Mrs. Morris Bays prepare at once to subscribe for a bundle of War Savings Stamps. You can make your escape in no other way. We need more of her spirit to win the war.

Mrs. Gene Kirkwood is visiting in the valley.

Lea Shrader, his brother, and several others are working in the Pacific City mill while the Fisher mill that was recently burned at Mercola, is being rebuilt.

Dr. Thorp, who begins duty for Uncle Sam Friday, accompanied by his wife and mother, spent Tuesday night here with his grandmother, Mrs. Woods.

Dr. Hester and family, of Newberg, who are camping here, are catching some fine fish, which they are canning for future use. If more would follow his example there would be more pork and beef to our boys on the battle front.
