Why Wait?

Edison says that when this great war is over, the energies of the world will be glad to turn to invention, engineering and productive labor and that the greatest constructive advance in history will follow.

It sounds sensible that mankind should soon turn from problems of killing to problems of living but we in this country are not at war and why should we wait? No doubt we shall advantage greatly in the future by being driven to develop our own resources and by discovering the vast possibilities of foreign trade to which we have been strangers; but what about the "now?"

What sense or profit is there for us in waiting until after the war to buy and sell, to reap and sow, to make and order, to live and let live? You may have heard of the little girl who was bawling lustily with her brother, who wanted a drink, but who said she herself was only "helping Bobbie cry." Among the millions of people in this country there are always some who are unhappy. No matter how good their reasons, no real help is given by helping them cry.

Sacred Concert Sunday Night.

 - Violin Solo—Selected, Ransom McArthur.
 - Duet—Carol of Bethlehem, Fred L. Cundiff and Mrs. McArthur.
 - Anthem—"Hark the Herald Angels Sing," Choir
 - Quartette—"Xmas Time," Mrs. McArthur, Miss Mabel Saunders, C. J. Tubbs, Fred L. Cundiff.
- The general public is cordially invited to attend—no admission.

To the People of Eagle Valley

We wish to thank the people of Eagle Valley for their splendid patronage, especially along the line of phonographs and pianos. If you want anything in the above line, phone us at our expense. We will deliver either piano or phonograph at Robinette free of expense to you. A very small payment down and easy monthly payments make the instrument yours. In regard to records, send us a list of what you think you will want. We will deliver them free by parcel post. You may try them for two days with the privilege of returning one half of what you have sent for if you wish—you to pay the return postage. We keep a complete stock of both Victor and Edison records write for catalogues.
