RAILROAD PROPOSITION

Our item in a recent issue relating to financing the railroad proposition, has stirred up a great deal of interest. In reply to the many inquiries as to whom the bonding companies were and whether or not the information was reliable, we will state that we received same from a prominent Eagle Valley citizen who read the letters from the firms referred to, but does not deem it advisable to make them public now, but will do so at the proper time.

Eagle Valley parties are now in communication with interested parties in the East and hope in a short time to have matters in shape to make a definite business proposition to both Baker and Haines.

That a line could be built from Haines cheaper than Baker is a fact admitted by parties who have examined both routes, and would accomodate practically the same territory. As soon as any thing further develops our readers will be informed.

To the Subscribers of The Eagle Valley News,

In entering upon the New Year would it not be a good plan to call and settle with the editor.

Perhaps the paper the last year was not what it should have been, but you have derived a little benefit at least from its weekly visit, and we intend to give your money's worth in 1915, or die in the trying. A large number have called and settled, but there are several who have failed to do so, and under the rules of the postoffice department these must be taken off the list at once. We are sure that you do not wish your name removed, and we are certain that we do not wish to remove it, as we need your support.

The price of a year's subscription is not much of itself, but the aggregate amount of those in ar-rear is quite a large sum to us at this time, and if you will call and settle it will make us feel that our efforts are being appreciated.

Wishing you all a very happy and prosperous New Year, and assuring you that we are always willing to grant any favor within our power to aid the welfare of this community, we are, yours truly,

C. E. THORP.

DEATH OF MRS. COUTY

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Couty, who has been quite feeble for some time past, occurred at the home of her son, Joseph, on last Sunday, Dec. 27th. The funeral was held on Wednesday, J. C. Bowen, of New Bridge, conducting the services in the absence of an official of the Catholic church.

Elizabeth Ferguson was born at Plattsville, New York, in the year 1841; in June 1862, she was united in marriage to Louis Cou-ty, whose death occurred several years ago. To this union were born ten children, seven of which are still living, viz: Joseph Couty, Mrs. Louisa Engum and Mrs.
Armina Olson, all residents of Richland; Israel Couty, of Marshfield, Wis., Alex. Couty, of Mitadore, Wis., Benjamin Couty, address unknown, and Mrs. Mary Jensen, of Amherst, Wis. The deceased also leaves two sisters to mourn her demise, Mrs. M. J.
Simonis and Mrs. I. N. Young.

Mrs. Couty had been a resident of Eagle Valley for several years past and had a large circle of friends, and the bereaved relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

National Leaders To Speak.

The highest authorities in the United States in six of the most vital rural problems of the day have been assigned by the Department of Agriculture to be present at the O. A. C. Farmers' and Conference Week and make addresses for the benefit of the special students in attendance.
If these lectures by federal experts were the only valuable features of the week's exercises, they would be sufficient to justify a long journey to hear. Taken in connection with the other strong features of the week no farmer who can afford to attend can afford to miss hearing them. The speakers and their subjects are as follows: Charles E. Bassett, Cooperative Organizations; C. B.
Smith, Farm Management; Dr. J.
W. T. Duval, Grain Standardization; O. H. Benson, Demonstration Club Work; U. G. Houck, Veterinary Inspector, and D. W.
Working, Farm Demonstration.
The date is February 1 to 7.

Our January Clearance Sale starts Monday, January 4, you should take advantage of this and buy for your present and future wants. E. & W. Chand-

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES

Christmas in Eagle Valley proved an ideal holiday and as far as we are able to ascertain each and every resident, large and small enjoyed the festivities to the utmost. Beginning with the entertainments and trees by the churches on Thursday evening and ending by the tire-dancers on Saturday morning there was amusement of various kinds for all.

A program and Xmas tree at the M. E. church and another at the gymnasium by the Sunday School of the Christian church, on Thursday evening, were both attended by large crowds and were sources of great enjoyment, to the children especially.

On Christmas day there were many dinner parties, family reunions and other social functions, and in the evening dances were held at both New Bridge and Richland.

The mask ball at the opera house was attended by a very large crowd. Miss Flossie Clemens and brother Harold, captured the first prize; Miss Beyea and Clyde Macey, second, and Bill Farley got the "hooby" prize.
Good order was maintained throughout the evening and all present report a royal time.

To the Business Men of Richland.

The New Year is with us.
1914 with its trials and sorrows should be laid on the shelf.
There is no call for hesitation in the business world at present.
The old-fashioned elements or factors of good business are in normal condition. To take counsel, of fear or to invent reasons for inaction is most unwise.

A good example is better than a poor one, so start the New Year with a determination that you will be an optimist, that you will try to convert every resident of Eagle Valley to the same way of thinking, that you will "boost" every thing that tends to the betterment of this community, and that if you have troubles you will keep them to yourself.

We are going on with our business, and hope you are doing likewise. We hope you will do more business than ever and we hope our business intercourse with you will continue and increase.

Everett has secured a position
