GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS"
TRUP TO CONSTIPATED CHILD
Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Fauna of Canal Zone

COLONEL GOETHALS, as civil governor of the Canal Zone, has adhered to the policy he maintained during the engineering work in the region, that the isthmus shall be a game preserve, and the zone is proving a rich field for naturalists. Several months ago H. E. Anthony accompanied an expedition to the zone, and in the American Museum Journal he writes interestingly of what he found there.

It was expected, says Mr. Anthony, that faunal conditions in the Canal Zone would be undergoing abrupt changes because of the damming of Gatun lake and the consequent extensive high water. From a basin with no lake worthy of the name, with standing water confined largely to marshy areas except during the height of the rainy season, the Gatun region has been transformed by the huge dam at the locks into a lake of 164 square miles in extent and a depth of 70 to 80 feet in many places.

Animals Seek New Homes.

This flooding of ground formerly high and dry, it was anticipated, would drive many animals to seek new homes or might even threaten some of the more restricted, lowland-living animals with extermination. Incidentally many of the islands and ridge crests left above water might have a concentrated fauna driven there from the adjacent flooded localities. Other phases of the question dealing with the newly created lake, were the wiping out of the lowland forests by submergence, the rise of new aquatic flora such as the water hyacinth, and the probable inhabit-tion of the lake by water birds. Such were some of the items in the purpose of the expedition and we were equipped to take advantage of these new conditions if the foregoing assumptions proved correct.

As Gatun lake was the center of investigation, it was planned to work from a houseboat as a base camp with a launch and small boats for side trips. Late afternoon of March 6 saw us leaving Gatun with the houseboat and by three o'clock the next morning we were tied up at the head of a waterway or trocha that branched off from the Rio Trinidad. This was our main camp and we hoped to be able to work the undisturbed jungle from here.

"Black Howler" Monkeys.

It was at this spot that we made the acquaintance of the largest of the Panamanian monkeys, the "black howlers." Frequently their queer booming, roaring, howl echoed through the jungle, a call that carries for long distances. They howl oftenest just before or during a rain storm and the natives thus look upon them as weather prophets. Upon one occasion I stood almost under some trees through which a troop was passing, while the first big preliminary drops of a sudden shower pattered upon the leaves about me. The volume of sound that issued from the black shaggy throats was so great and so suggestive of a large animal, a lion for example, that I found it hard to reconcile myself to the actual facts.

Other interesting mammals encountered here were the pretty squirrel-like marmoset, the short-haired anteater and several species of opossum, while we were continually wondering at the variety of the bird life and the diversity of the bird songs and call-notes. The noisy parrots thirt shouted in the morning until the jungle rang with their tumult, the grotesque toucans which at times vied with the parrots, the calling of the parrakeets and the peculiar chirruplike calls of the chachalaca, or "wild turkey," produced an impression that must ever be associated with jungle memories. At night mysterious noises were heard from unknown sources and one weird laughing call in particular caused conjecture to run rife.

Besides the work done on the Rio Trinidad, several long trips by launch were made up the Rio Chagres, one as far up the river as the launch could ascend and two others up the Rio Chilibrillo to some limestone caves for bats.

Jungle Almost Impenetrable.

Whenever one left the waters of Gatun lake the dense, unaltered jungle was at once encountered and no matter how much its beauty was to be admired from the boat, its impenetrability was no less to be deplored. It was useless to attempt to leave the trail without recourse to the machete, the long brush knife of Latin America, and many were the varieties of briars and thorns to be avoided. Once into the thick growth of the jungle, the hunter found it necessary to stand

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, the heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Turning the Tables.

"Please, ma'am, your dog has killed three of father's prize fowls," said the small boy.

"Oh, I'm sure my Fido would never do such a thing," said the old lady.

"But father saw one of the chickens in his mouth," said the boy.

"Purely circumstantial evidence," she snapped, and the boy departed.

Some time later he returned.

"Please, mum, father sent me to tell you that circumstantial evidence might point to his having shot your dog, but he reckons you'll find he died of lead poisoning."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome

The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

They are killing cats in Germany to line the soldiers' coats. And it is reported that the sausage mills do not think of shutting down.

Many people have marveled the way S. S. S. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that S. S. S. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active principle of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skilful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 529 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some sealious clerk's eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon S. S. S.
