Fishing tackle, the kind that brings in the fish, at Saunders Bro's.—ad

Elthu Speaks transacted business at the land office in Halfway last Thursday.

Miss Louella Tarter has returned to the Valley after a short visit with relatives in Idaho.

Will trade a good incubator for wood to be delivered later in the season. Call at News office.—ad

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Haynes and family, residents of the Sparta district, were business visitors Monday.

State Game Warden Shoemaker writes us that the price of sportsmen licenses will be raised at midnight, May 20th.

C. J. Duffey is in the Valley. He says he will bring the family out next week to take up their residence for the summer.

C. O. Obert, who with his family came in from the Walla Walla country and settled in the Sparta district this spring, transacted business in Richland Tuesday.

Conrad Steelman is using the high waters of Eagle Creek as a means of bringing down several hundred ricks of wood which he cut last fall above the Evans ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hartley returned from Baker, Sunday, where the latter had a small tumor removed from her nose. Mrs. Emma Sullivan returned with them.

U. S. Commissioner Shelton, accompanied by his stenographer Miss Bianche Brown, came over from Halfway last Saturday and were met here by a number of homesteaders who had business to transact or desired information in regard to their filings. Without question, Mr. Shelton is the most accommodating commissioner ever in this district, and as he is conscientious, honest and careful in every transaction his business is increasing daily.

Captain Craig reports the following donations for the cemetery fund secured by him since our last issue: W. Lovell Gover, E. E. Augustus $5, D. T. Allen $5, G. W. Evans $5, Mrs. Peter Suss $11.

It is estimated that fully one-third of the bees in Eagle Valley failed to survive the long winter. This is a severe loss to the apiarists as the increasing price of sugar will create an enormous demand for honey.

The Loyal Scouts took their first "hike" Monday, going up Eagle Canyon where they spent the day in fishing and having a good time generally. Such excursions are of wonderful benefit to the boys and all parents should give Mr. Bean their support in this grand work.

Messrs. John and Everett Graven are now in charge of the Richland Meat Market and intend to keep on hand all kinds of fresh and cured meats and fresh fish. They will pay the highest cash price for hides and pelts at all times, and respectfully solicit the patronage of all residents.

A telegram from the U. of O. at Eugene to Portland papers gives Julius Frahm quite a write-up as a commander of one of the cadet squads of that institution and says that "he spent three years in military training under Kaiser Wilhelm." They might also have added that he spent three years drilling mutton heads under the command of Colonel Peter Sass.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graven and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Graven arrived from Pine Valley last week and have been temporarily located at New Bridge. John and family will move into the Geo. Evans cottage in a few days and Everett will also move to Richland as soon as a dwelling can be secured.

Slove Cooper arrived from Kentucky yesterday where he had spent the winter. He is looking fine and no doubt will be running a race with Capt. for a housekeeper ere long.

Less than a dozen parents were present at the meeting last Saturday night, called for the purpose of getting the public more interested in the Loyal Scouts, yet we dare say there is not a mother or father in Eagle Valley who does not wish their boy to grow up strong, both physically, mentally and morally. Mr. Bean is devoting his time and energies in the movement without compensation—simply for the reason that he knows the good that can be accomplished in a community by an organization of this kind. If you do not understand the benefits to be derived by members of the Loyal Scouts, you should ask Mr. Bean to explain—he'll be pleased to state the facts to you.

A Symbol of Health.
The Egyptians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance, and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star, which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets and still fulfills its ancient purpose as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness, constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be amazed at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.

A Mourner.
Funeral Director (to gentleman)—Are you one of the mourners? Gentle man—Yes; he owed me $500.

OUR FLAG.
(By Mrs. M. Sargent)
The warships float
Above our tranquil shores,
And from their masts
Flare searchlights
To mark the sea
When ships pass by.
Dark was the night
When freedom's flag was spurned,
Then hearts beat strong
When glory's mighty flames burst forth
To mark the wrong.
Long may our flag
In endless stripes arise,
Till Freedom lands
Shall brightly
Carry it to lands
Throughout their lands!

Kill Flies Now
This past week's report of flies adds to the number already reported 1200 making a total of 1800.

The killing of one fly now means billions less this summer. We appreciate the effort made to clean up—keep the good work going.

Flies will not go where there is nothing to eat and their principal diet is too filthy to mention. Do not wait until the insects begin to pester; anticipate the annoyance.

At this time Roy Shoemaker holds the record, having 600 flies to his credit; Merton Chapman second with 500; Flo Mason, New Bridge, 400, is third, many others have brought in from one to 300. Kill flies and save lives.

Civic League.
Fruit trees are blossoming in profusion in the upper part of the Valley.

Hides and Wool.
To avoid competition will pay the following prices for hides from now on: Full wool pelts 30c lb.; Dry beef hides 32c lb.; Green salted beef hides, No. 1, 19c lb.; Green salted calf hides, up to 14 lbs., 33c lb. I will be in Eagle Valley every month. Wait for me. L. Dachtelberg.—ad

CALAMITIES.
And as for me, let what will come, I can receive no damage from it unless I think it a calamity, and it is in my power to think it none, if I so decide.—
Marcus Aurelius.

"What became of Bots' educated goat?"
"He had to dispose of it."
"What was the trouble?"
"The neighbors thought the goat was learning too many human accomplishments, and there was a crisis when the animal began to take in washing."—

At The Methodist Church

The revival at the Methodist Church continues with increasing interest. A large number of persons have been converted and several have been sanctified. The evangelists are preaching the rugged old gospel in the power and demonstration of the Holy Spirit, and souls are finding that it is still the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth. The church will observe Mother's Day next Sunday. A carnation will be given to each mother who attends the service, and Sister Stake will preach a special sermon to the mothers. Everybody is heartily invited to attend this service, especially the mothers of the community. Come then with us, and we will do thee good.

Arthur Thomas, Pastor.

The Kangaroo's Kick.
When a big "old man" kangaroo still has his tail and converts it into a sort of revolving pivot bearing the whole weight of his body, leaving his front limbs free for attack and defense, everybody who does not want to be ripped up or thrown in a heap for a considerable distance will give the marsupial a wide berth. Only those who have seen the full grown kangaroo in his native Australian bush with his back to a tree, scattering dogs, bleeding and torn, right and left, can form any adequate idea of the prodigious strength the animal is capable of exerting when he finds himself in a tight corner.

Longevity of Scientists.
The longevity of scientists is quite as remarkable as that of artists. Chevreul was 103 at the time of his death, and both Sir Joseph Hooker and Alfred Russel Wallace were over ninety. Lord Kelvin was eighty-four, while Lord Kelvin, Herbert Spencer, Virchow and Berthelot were likewise octogenarians. Evidently, as Sir Sidney Lee maintains, "sustained intellectual effort is no bar to longevity." He finds that seventy years of age forms the average life of the 1,625 men and women commemorated in the second supplement to the Dictionary of National Biography. Nearly 400 of these died after their eightieth year, four of them being centenarians.—London Mirror.

Friends of the News who have occasion to publish legal advertisements in settlement of estates or other probate matters or in cases in the district court will do this paper a favor by directing their attorney or the county official having such matters in charge to have such publication made in The Eagle Valley News.
