JOHN BAKER, Owner

A Typewriting Tip.

Having occasion to measure a circumference that figured out to tenths of an inch and not having a rule marked to these divisions, says J. Claude Crews in the Popular Science Monthly, I tried the following means of overcoming the difficulty: Going to a typewriter, I made a row of periods, with each tenth one a comma to show full inches. This gave me a rule marked in tenths, also one that could be bent around shafting, collars, etc. As nearly all typewriters make ten spaces to an inch, it is an easy matter to accomplish what seems to be a difficult job.

Blissful Occupation.

The little boy had told a little girl that he loved her, and the teacher ordered him to write "I love Beessie" on the blackboard 100 times.
"But that was no punishment," said the teacher later. "He would cheerfully have written it 1,000 times." Louisville Courier-Journal.

Tactless.

"Is Mr. Flubdub busy?" asked the diffident customer.
"Mr. Flubdub is always busy," replied the pompous attendant.
"Well, let him stay busy." And that's how Mr. Flubdub lost a big order.— Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Explanation.

Among the items mentioned in the recent report of the year's work of the Methodist church was one of $266.75 to the Red Cross. From the way in which this offering was made it was impossible to treat it as a lump sum given direct from the church to the Red Cross. However it was the privilege of those contributing to make their offering as from the church of which they are members and attendants. This prerogative was exercised.

All of the above amount has not yet been paid in; however, as the conference year closed Aug. 26, the year's work also closed, and whatever amounts are paid on this item in the future will not appear in next year's report. We make this explanation for the benefit of any who may not understand the situation.

Arthur Thomas, Pastor.
