LOCAL AND OTHERWISE

Sam Saunders is in from Idaho looking after business matters.

Don't fail to take in the races at Halfway tomorrow and Saturday.

Dogan Saunders has sold his farm in Idaho to the Crane Creek Sheep Co.

Dr. McArthur concluded there was no place like Eagle Valley so has resumed his practice in Richland.

Another shipment of washing machines due this week. If in need of one see us at once as this shipment will not last long. Raley's.—ad

The revival meetings at the Methodist church are gaining in interest right along. Rev. Carter is said to be a fine speaker and his sermons full of interest.

It is said the teachers' institute of last week was the most interesting and instructive ever held in Baker county. Our local instructors report themselves amply repaid for their trip.

Yesterday morning the Granites and other surrounding mountains and high hills were covered with a mantle of snow. A slight freeze was noticeable in the Valley but little damage resulted.

A number of premiums given at the children's industrial fair at Baker last week were won by the students of our local schools, but so far we have been unable to secure a complete list of same.

The earlier varieties of apples are being gathered. Eagle Valley's apple crop this season will be a record breaker, every orchardist reporting trees breaking down under the immense load of fruit of exceptional quality.

Next week will be Conservation Week. Everybody is expected to go without white bread and meat one day. We can supply you with gram and rye flour, canned and salt fish.

E. & W. Chandler.

Any person who may hereafter enlist in the Navy for the first time, shall in time of peace—if he so elects, receive discharge therefrom without cost to himself during the month of June or December respectively following the completion of one year at sea.

The L. E. Chandler sale last Saturday was attended by a vast crowd most of whom came early and enjoyed the delicious sandwiches and coffee which were served free to all at noon. Every thing offered found a buyer and the prices obtained were exceptionally good, the total sales reaching $1083.05.

Why get your feet wet and cold these mornings when you may prevent it by wearing rubbers or rubber boots? Our line is most complete and we can fit any member of the family. Call and get our prices. Saunders Bro's.—ad

OUR LIBERTY BELL.

A Victim of Old Age Disease and Its Triple Meltings.

Metals, just like people, are subject to the wearing effects of time. And they also have diseases that destroy their vitality. A combination of both is responsible for the great crack in the famous Liberty bell, which recently has shown a tendency to spread.

The bell was made in England by one Thomas A. Lester and shipped to Philadelphia in 1752. When tested with a hammer it cracked at the first stroke. The metal was recast and 10 per cent of copper added. This addition did not have good effects, seeming to spoil the bell's tone. So it was remelted a second time and tin put in with the copper to restore the sound.

Although details are somewhat hazy, it is certain that facilities in the colonies for handling such a quantity of metal were not very good. The bell weighs about 2,000 pounds, and it is estimated that twenty to twenty-five of the largest crucibles in America were required for the purpose.

At all events, the bell was finally cast a third time and accepted. But it did not cool evenly and was immediately subject to shrinkage strain. These strains had about the same effect as if a piece of cloth were gripped in a person's two hands and torn down the middle. This pressure ultimately caused the big crack which is such a familiar characteristic of the bell and which now promises to become even larger.

Another point against the bell was the triple meltings. Metal loses something of its vitality every time that it goes through the crucible. Nothing that undergoes the "making over" process is quite as good as before, and the Liberty bell had been made and remade three times before it pealed forth the message of freedom.—Los Angeles Times.

DIET FOR NEPHRITIS.

Proper Food For Those Afflicted With Inflamed Kidneys.

In nephritis or inflammation of the kidneys diet is a very important part of the treatment. The diet is planned to reduce the tax on the kidney to the lowest terms. Beverages and fluid foods are limited, no salt is added to food, certain vegetables which contain much salt are avoided and meat is cut out entirely.

Dr. Arthur F. Chace, professor of medicine, and Dr. Anton R. Ross, associate in pathological chemistry in the New York Post Graduate Medical School and hospital, give in the Journal of the American Medical Association a study of diet for nephritic sufferers.

The general plan of the dietary is as follows: "A warm cooked cereal, generally farina served with milk, is given for breakfast. This is sometimes replaced by oatmeal or a baked banana, and toast and a citrus fruit are occasionally added.

"The noon meal consists of a plain soup made from milk, flour and butter, given mainly to supply an agreeable hot dish, though it is also utilized as a medium for introducing variety by adding celery, asparagus or spinach; a main dish consisting of baked potato, now and then replaced by a baked half ripe banana and steamed rice; a liberal portion of green vegetable and a lettuce salad with oil dressing, flavored with lemon or vinegar.

"The evening meal is composed of such articles as ripe bananas, rice pudding, cornstarch blancmange, steamed rice with baked bananas and stewed fruit. Milk and cocoa in limited quantities are served as beverage."

From this general outline it is not difficult to construct twenty different menus that will contain great variety.

A good time to renew.
