The Liberty films are gaining in interest at each show, last Thursday night's program excelling any ever shown in Richland. A monster crowd will attend tonight to see how Liberty and Pedro manage to escape from the "poison pool."

Cards were distributed through the schools this week to practically every family in the community, asking the housewife to pledge herself to the conservation of food by the elimination of all waste possible. Next week every home will be visited by a special committee with the intention of getting each housewife thoroughly interested in this movement.

Last week's Pine Valley Herald says: "The record made by the Halfway water system is an excellent one. A system which will pay interest on $20,000 in a little town within two years after it is installed is doing all that can be expected. Two more years will doubtless see it paying a little on the principal, and by the time the bonds are due, 20 years, the revenue may have been sufficient to pay them all."

Interest in Revival Growing

In spite of the busy season the crowds and interest at the revival meeting at the Methodist church are growing. Dr. Carter is perhaps the strongest preacher that has ever come to Eagle Valley. His sermons are well arranged and deeply spiritual. Those who have heard him once find it difficult to stay away from the services. Dr. Carter will be here another week; come and hear him.
Arthur Thomas, Pastor.

Don't miss the movies tonight.
