Hallowe'en at Lookout.

On Wednesday evening of last week the Lookout and Upper Daly Creek schools combined and gave a Hallowe'en program and social in the latter named school house. The building was appropriately decorated and the program was in direct keeping with Hallowe'en and included violin and guitar selections by Messrs. Lemuel and Clifford Smelcer and Richard Kirby. After the program the youngsters engaged in a nut hunt while the older ones were amused by fortune telling and other like enjoyments. Before the departure of the crowd refreshments in keeping with the occasion were served and all present declared the evening most enjoyably spent.

Contributed.

Only two more nights of the Liberty films, and we predict that the opera house will be packed at both performances.

Dr. Williams of Halfway favored us with a remittance which advanced his sub to the News until Feb. 1, 1919. Among others remembering the editor the past week were E. K. Greener, A. Madson, Frank Bork and John Trickle.

The American bread line has stretched. Once white bread stood alone. Now in the line of honor, with cornbread for captain are rye-bread, barley-bread, rice-bread, potato-bread, buckwheat-bread, and oat-meal bread. Try them at intervals at your home and see if the family doesn't appreciate the change.

Bro. Hughes hit the nail in the right spot in last week's Pine Valley Herald when he said: "It requires more than giving a job of printing now and then by a business man to support a paper in such a way as to make it a force of good for the community. The publisher of a town paper appreciates the printing, but the point is this: if everyone gave support in the way of printing only, the publisher would soon be compelled to drop the paper and give all his time to the job department."
