Save a loaf a week help win the war

A little more of this book practice, and he'll be ready to sit down and enjoy a little chew of the Real Gravely the folks back home sent him.

Who is Going to Send Him another pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

Real Gravely Plug is the tobacco to send the Boy—not ordinary plug loaded up with sweetening, but condensed quality—with the good Gravely taste that satisfies and comforts and lasts a long while.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravely Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the kind that's the kind to send. Send the kind that's the kind to send.

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravely, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, use Gravely with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give a better flavor to your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE
A POUCH OF GRAVELY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c pouches. A 2c stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Department of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 2c stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelopes and show you official directions how to address it.

War Saving Stamp sales in this district total around $1100 at this time. Have you bought your $20 quota yet.

Apples—just right to use now, will sell at 75c per box and deliver in Richland. Order at once, Barney Eidson, New Bridge.—ad

1500 white-face yearling ewes for May 1st delivery at Robinette. Guarantee stock to be good. Will be sold in lots of 300 up. Address Geo. W. Densley, Baker, Ore.—ad

Jim Ritter is after the office of county commissioner again. If he will tell us any real reason why he should be re-elected we might vote for Jim—if he has no opponent.

A. R. Combs, Jr., has announced his candidacy for county clerk. The worst thing that has been said about Combs is that he has held the office several terms;—no one denies that he has done so most efficiently.

The Red Cross entertainment at New Bridge on Monday night was a decided success, and those present from this part of the valley are unanimous in declaring that they never had a more pleasant time. The net receipts were around $150.

German spies are peddling a story that sweaters knit for soldiers are being sold by merchants in various parts of the state. It's a lie. Go out and prove it by trying to buy one, or by trying to find the fellow who sold one or the fellow who bought one.

Dr. M. D. Fleming, optometrist of Boise, will make his third visit to Richland on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 22, 23 and 24. During his previous visits here the Doctor has fitted a large number of Eagle Valley citizens with glasses, and without exception everyone has been perfectly satisfied. If your eyes trouble you in the least, don't fail to consult Dr. Fleming.—ad

Despondency Due to Constipation
Women often become nervous and despondent. When this is due to constipation it is easily corrected by taking an occasional dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets are easy to take and pleasant in effect.

Ratification Meeting.

When the House of Representatives of the United States Congress voted 282 to 128 to submit to the states the resolution providing for constitutional amendment prohibiting the liquor traffic all over the United States, it took a step forward that ought to please every sincere temperance advocate in Oregon.

The progress of prohibition logically demanded this step as 88 per cent of the territory of the U. S. is dry; 27 states have adopted state-wide prohibition.

The people of Eagle Valley and vicinity are to be especially favored on Wednesday night, March 27th, when they are to have the pleasure of hearing Dr. W. J. Herwig of Kansas, discuss this important question under the title of "A Boozless Democracy" at the Richland Methodist church.

Dr. Herwig is the man who put Idaho dry. Do not fail to hear this champion for a dry nation. He does not need to warm up to his subject, it flows red hot from his lips.

Antiquity of Jerusalem.

The wonderful antiquity of Jerusalem has only been appreciated in recent years. Up to 50 years ago, observes the Chicago Examiner, it was thought that Jerusalem was of little importance as a city until it became the "City of David," king of Israel. But with the discovery of the Tel-el-Amarna tablets in Egypt new light was shed upon the history of the sacred city. There were found six letters written by the king of Jerusalem to the Pharaoh of Egypt, dating from the fifteenth century B. C. The name of this king of Jerusalem was Abd-hiba, or, as some scholars read the cuneiform, Abd-sadik, and he writes to the Pharaoh beseeching him to send soldiers, almost as the Turks must have sent messages to Germany asking for reinforcements that they might save the day.

Don't miss the sale next Monday March 25th, at Wright's corral.

OLD BLOCK PRINTS

Invention Is Credited to the Chinese in Year 592.

Books Not in Competition With Manuscripts Until the Middle of the Tenth Century.

Printing from blocks is said to have been invented in China in 592 A. D., during the enlightened reign of Yang Chien, the founder of the progressive but short-lived Sui dynasty. Printed books, however, asserts a writer in the Oriental News and Comment, did not compete with manuscripts until the middle of the tenth century. From that time block printing developed very rapidly, resulting in a great cheapening and wide diffusion of books and the consequent rapid decline of the copyist's trade. No doubt the rapid dissemination of learning thus entailed had much to do with the great intellectual progress made in China during the Sung dynasty, from 960 to 1280 A. D., which has been called the "protracted Augustan age of Chinese literature."

Disregarding the manuscript works of the Sung dynasty (618-907 A. D.), which were doubtless tenfold more numerous and more important than the contemporaneous literary works of the whole western world, the printed book of the Sung Yuan and the early part of the Ming dynasties up to the middle of the fifteenth century have no counterpart at all in Europe. They existed in countless thousands of volumes. In 1406 the Imperial Ming library contained printed works to the extent of more than 300,000 chuan (books) and more than twice as many manuscripts, and already many printed works of the Sung dynasty had been lost during the disorders incident to the protracted wars with the Mongols. Undoubtedly more books were printed in China than in all the rest of the world up to the middle of the seventeenth or the beginning of the eighteenth century.

The great bulk of Chinese works, aside from the Confucian classics, historical or literary, the latter being mostly essays, short poems, or critiques. There exists also a vast Buddhist literature and very many Taoist works.

Novels are not even classed as literature, although famous ones exist and some of them have been translated into European languages. There are also many famous dramas, some dating from the Yuan dynasty, but these, too, are excluded from literature proper by Chinese bibliographers. The historical records of the Chinese are of vast bulk and represent a conscientious and painstaking record of the political and sociological experiences of the oldest civilized nation on earth. In close connection with these records proper we should consider the vast number of geographic treatises and especially the so-called gazetteers. These latter are official publications issued by the empire, province, district, or even township, and treat not only geography and topography proper, but also the antiquities, natural and manufactured products, and even the biographies of famous men, population, taxes, astrology, marvelous happenings, etc.

I. W. Sample of Halfway is Richland visitor.
