INSTITUTE A SUCCESS

The educational meetings held at the Richland Christian church last Friday evening and on Saturday, both morning and afternoon, were well attended and declared a success in every way. The threatening weather prevented the attendance of delegations from Pine Valley and other distant districts.

The program Friday evening included addresses by H. C. Seymour of the O. A. C. and A. C. Strange of Baker, also songs by Mrs. A. C. Strange, the High School chorus, Mrs. John Perry, Misses Lila Chandler, Maggie Dickie and Rachel Seigel.

Saturday forenoon Mrs. Jessie Kelly of Baker Junior High, N. B. Ashcraft and Miss Maude Halley spoke on topics of much educational importance.

At noon all in attendance were treated to a fine dinner served at the K. P. hall by the hospitable people of Eagle Valley.

Mrs. Strange opened the afternoon program with a solo, after which H. C. Seymour gave a lecture on "Club Work." Miss Elmetta Bailey then read a paper on "Suggested Changes in School Work Due to War Conditions." A. C. Strange gave a talk on "A Half-Baked Boy," and "Red Cross Work" was discussed by Mrs. A. L. Williams of Baker, supervisor of the Junior Red Cross for Baker and Grant counties.

Letter of Commendation.

Portland, Ore., April 12, 1918.
Third Liberty Loan Committee,
Richland, Oregon.
Gentlemen:

Oregon first! Our great State has set a pace for the nation. You and the people of your district have done splendid work in the whirlwind drive which has again swept us over the top. Our achievement is too big and our motive too high to permit of any personal commendation, but I cannot refrain at this time from giving some expression of my deep appreciation for the remarkable showing which you have made.

Please accept my hearty congratulation. Yours truly,
Blaine Hallock,
Asst. Executive Manager Liberty Loan State Central Committee of Oregon.

Everybody Invited.

As Friday, April 26th, marks the 99th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America, Eagle Lodge No. 123 I. O. O. F. will celebrate the occasion on the evening of the 26th at their hall in Richland. The affair will be in the nature of a "good will meeting" and the program will include music and addresses by Rev. Johnson and others. The public is cordially invited.

AGAIN DEATH CALLS

The sudden death of "Grandma" Buxton at the home of her son, F. J. Buxton, near New Bridge on Tuesday morning April 24th, was a shock to her relatives and friends. It appears that she had been in usual health up until bedtime Monday evening when she complained of having a severe cold. Her daughter-in-law went to her at midnight but she said nothing was needed. At breakfast time "Grandma" was asleep and seemed to be resting easy so it was decided not to disturb her. After the meal was finished Mrs. F. J. Buxton went to awaken her and found her dead.

The funeral will be held at the Methodist church in Richland today at two o'clock. Rev. J. M. Johnson conducting the services.

Zara D. Buxton was born in the state of Ohio on February 15th, 1846, and when but a child moved with her parents to Michigan, residing there until 1882 when she went to Kansas. She moved to Oklahoma when that country was first opened for settlement, afterwards going to New Mexico where she resided until coming to Oregon in August, 1915. She was the mother of four children, three of whom survive her, viz: Guy H., residing in New Mexico; Benjamin, a resident of Oklahoma City, and F. J. Buxton of Eagle Valley.

Farmers' Account Book

Many farmers have recently been called upon by the income tax collector to show their income during the past year. Nearly all found it very hard to make a report that would actually show the correct income, due to the fact that no records were kept.

In order to do away with this trouble in the future, Henry E. Tweed, county agricultural agent, has made arrangements with the Oregon Agricultural College to furnish farm record books free to all farmers who are willing to cooperate with him in taking an inventory and will follow it up throughout the year.

The farm is like a manufacturing plant and records should be kept accordingly. In order to know what departments or crops are making or losing money a close account must be kept. The most important fact in keeping farm records is the taking of the annual inventory. This will show in detail the amount of machinery, feed and livestock on hand, and its value at the present time. In taking inventory next year it will be found that the machinery will have a depreciation from 6 to 14 per cent, varying with the kind of implement and the care that has been taken of it. The inventory of livestock will show an increase in the value of young stock, and possibly the decrease in a horse when he has passed the useful stage.

Any of our readers desiring one of the record books should apply to Henry E. Tweed, Baker, Ore.

FEATHER YOUR NEST
