United States Senator Borah, of Idaho says: "It is a pleasure to state that Senator McNary has shown rare independence of action as a member of the Senate and his work in that body has been effective and characterized by industry and a thoughtful consideration of all measures coming before the Senate."

It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to assist in the election of men who, by reason of their ability and experience are not only best qualified to serve during the war, but who will also be able to assist in solving satisfactorily the many reconstruction problems with which this country will be confronted after the war. The records of Senator McNary and Representatives Hawley, Sinsott and McArthur are all 100 per cent in their support of war activities. Their loyalty and patriotism are unquestioned. They are to be entrusted to meet and solve every big problem the world may develop. Their records entitle them to re-election.

O. P. Hoff, Republican nominee for State Treasurer, is a broad minded man of wide business experience with an intimate knowledge of state affairs. He will come to the State Treasurer's office well equipped for the important duties of the position.

In urging the re-election of United States Senator McNary, Congressman McArthur and Governor Withycombe, friends of these candidates point to the fact that each has a 100 per cent war record. Senator McNary and Congressman McArthur have loyally stood behind the President and have at all times supported his vigorous prosecution of the war. Here at home Governor Withycombe has earnestly cooperated with the President and the administration in all war time activities to the end that Oregon today stands foremost among the states of the union in every patriotic endeavor.

Senator McNary, Congressman McArthur and Governor Withycombe have made good, are on the job and should be retained for further service. They have all been unwavering in their support of the President and his war policies and for that reason are better qualified to render the people further service that could possibly be expected from new and untrained men at this critical time. In other words, why make any change at this time? These servants of the people have measured up to the requirements of their jobs and have done all that any loyal American citizen could ask. What more could be asked or expected?

Senator McNary, Representatives Hawley, Sinsott and McArthur have all supported the President's war program and every war activity. They have measured up to their jobs. Each has a 100 per cent record for loyally standing behind the President. They are demanding that the war be won and won now. Could anything more be asked? Is anything more expected?

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION

is worth more to family life today than ever before. Today those who are responsible for the welfare of the family realize the imperative need of worthwhile reading and what it means to individual character, the home life and the state. Everywhere the waste and chaff, the worthless and inferior, are going to the discard.

The Youth's Companion stands first, last and continually for the best there is for all ages. It has character and creates like character. That is why, in these sifting times, the family turns to its 52 issues a year full of entertainment and suggestion and information, and is never disappointed.

It costs $2.00 a year to provide your family with the very best reading matter published, in both quantity and quality as well as in variety. The Youth's Companion excels.

Don't miss Grace Richmond's great serial, Anne Exeter, 10 chapters, beginning December 12.

The following special offer is made to new subscribers:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues of 1919.
2. All the remaining weekly issues of 1918.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1919.

All the above for only $2.00 or you may include:

4. McCall's Magazine—12 fashion numbers. All for only $2.50. The two magazines may be sent to separate addresses if desired.

Milk As An Energy Maker Acknowledged by Shipbuilders.

Because Portland and Seattle shipbuilders make a scramble for the milk bottles when the noon whistle blows they are becoming famous and to the fact that they drink milk is attributed their ability to do better work than any other shipbuilders.

Now comes San Francisco showing she, too, has taken up the habit. The Pacific Dairy Review says "one distributor alone supplies 1,500 quarts daily to men in the Union Iron Works," although, the review adds, "in San Francisco, the milk-drinking habit is still in its infancy." Here's another argument for keeping up the dairy herds. The milk bottle is backing the beer can off the map. Time was when the men of the iron works would have "rushed the can" as they termed getting their beer.

President Wilson's Appeal

(Published at the request of, and space paid for by, a committee of Eagle Valley citizens.)

My fellow countrymen: The congressional elections are at hand. They occur in the most critical period our country has ever faced or is likely to face in our time. If you have approved of my leadership and wish me to continue to be your unembarassed spokesman in affairs at home and abroad, I earnestly beg that you will express yourselves unmistakably to that effect by returning a Democratic majority to both the senate and house of representatives.

I am your servant and will accept your judgment without cavil but my power to administer the great trust assigned me by the constitution would be seriously impaired should your judgment be adverse, and I must frankly tell you so, because so many critical issues depend upon your verdict. No scruple of taste must in grim times like these be allowed to stand in the way of speaking the plain truth.

I have no thought of suggesting that any political party is paramount in matters of patriotism. I feel too deeply the sacrifices which have been made in this war by all our citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, to harbor such an idea. I mean only that the difficulties and delicacies of our present task are of a sort that makes it imperatively necessary that the nation should give its undivided support to the government, under a unified leadership, and that a Republican congress would divide the leadership.

The leaders of the minority in the present congress have unquestionably been pro-war, but they have been anti administration. At almost every turn since we entered the war they have sought to take the choice of policy and the conduct of the war out of my hands and put it under the control of instrumentalities of their own choosing.

This is no time either for divided council or divided leadership. Unity of command is as necessary now in civil action as it is upon the field of battle. If the control of the house and the senate should be taken away from the party now in power, an opposing majority could assume control of legislation and oblige all action to be taken amidst contest and obstruction.

The return of a Republican majority to either house of the congress would, moreover, be interpreted on the other side of the water as a repudiation of my leadership. Spokesmen of the Republican party are urging you to elect a Republican congress in order to back up and support the president, but even if they should in this impose upon some credulous voters on this side of the water, they would impose on no one on the other side. It is well understood there, as well as here, that the Republican leaders desire not so much to support the president as to control him.

The peoples of the allied countries with whom we are associated against Germany are quite familiar with the significance of elections. They would find it very difficult to believe that the voters of the United States had chosen to support their president by electing to the congress a majority controlled by those who are not in fact in sympathy with the attitude and action of the administration.

I need not tell you, my fellow countrymen, that I am asking your support not for my own sake or the sake of a political party, but for the sake of the nation itself, in order that its inward unity of purpose may be evident to all the world. In ordinary times I would not feel at liberty to make such an appeal to you. In ordinary times divided counsels can endure without permanent hurt to the country. But these are not ordinary times.

If in these critical days it is your wish to sustain me with undivided minds, I beg you will say so in a way which it will not be possible to misunderstand, either here at home or among our associates on the other side of the sea. I submit my difficulties and my hopes to you.

WOODROW WILSON.

SPORTSMEN ATTENTION

Friends and Fellow Sportsmen:

It has come to my notice that for some time past the people of Eagle Valley and Lower Powder sections have been killing Chinese Pheasants. It is certainly with much regret that I receive these reports. I have heretofore placed the utmost confidence in the sportsmen of these sections and certainly have given them no cause to complain of my treatment of them. I do not follow people on their camping trips to see if I can make an arrest for some trivial matter and have otherwise shown that I believe in the old adage that at least nine out of ten men are honest.

These birds were raised and liberated in your sections at a great expense to the State and you promised that you would give them the protection necessary until such time as an open season would be warranted. You have not done so and have broken faith with your State and those that repose confidence in you. Do you think that the man who breaks the game law is better than the man who steals your stock? The game law is just as sound as any other law, and deserves the same consideration.

I still believe that I am right in thinking that nine out of ten of you are honest and law-abiding citizens and am going to make an appeal to you all as friends and lovers of the great out of doors to assist me in the further protection of your game. I as warden wish to be considered your servant, to assist you in keeping your streams and hills replenished with game, not as an enemy and spy as some would lead me to believe. I therefore ask you to cooperate with myself and the game department in the enforcement of the game code, and will offer $50.00 reward for any information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any one found guilty of killing Chinese Pheasants out of season.

Sportsmen! Show me that my confidence in you has not been betrayed. Very sincerely yours,

I. B. Hazeltime,
District Game Warden

Mrs. Smith Recommends Chamberlain's Tablets

"I have had more or less stomach trouble for eight or ten years," writes Mrs. G. H. Smith, Brewerton, N.Y. "When suffering from attacks of indigestion and heaviness after eating, one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets have always relieved me. I have also found them a pleasant laxative." These tablets tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you are troubled with indigestion give them a trial, get well and stay well.

VOTERS OF OREGON

Justice F. A. Moore of the Supreme Court died last month. Go late for the name of any candidate to succeed him to be placed on the Ballot. This condition makes it necessary to write in the name of your candidate.

This is the most important position in the judicial system of the state.

It is essential to choose a man of extensive legal training, of high character, and of broad vision. We recommend for your consideration and vote

J. U. CAMPBELL OF OREGON CITY

Resident of the State 20 years; lawyer for 25 years; veteran of Spanish American War and Philippine Insurrection, having served with 2nd Oregon Regiment; member of Oregon Legislature in 1887 and 1899 sessions; Judge of the 5th Judicial District 9 1/2 years.

In all these positions he had made good. He served as a private citizen and public official has been above criticism.
