In a letter enclosing check for subscription to the News, Mrs. Evelyn Staigh Scott of Lake Creek, Oregon, writes: "We are shocked and grieved beyond measure at the untimely death of so many of Eagle Valley's finest young men. Having known them since boyhood, we realize what a loss their passing on will mean to Eagle Valley as well as to their immediate families."

Some Filers Are Anchored.

"I picked you out to write to because I can see by your eyes you're the lone-some kid," gushed a letter addressed to the handsome young aviator whose likeness had just appeared in the Great Lakes Recruit.

The handsome young aviator is a Kansas City man. "Now, Mary," he wrote to his wife, "in case you don't feel toward me as you used to, this is the time to speak up, as you will observe by the inclosure." And he sent her the letter.

DOESN'T LIKE GERMANY

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chase last week received a big stack of letters and cards written by their son, Sgt. Story M. Chase, Bat. A, 348 F. A., A.E.F., the first word they had got from him for about two months. Herewith we give extracts from three of the letters:

Betzdorf Lux., Dec. 13, '18. We have been here for a week but I think we will get out Monday. Have been to Luxemburg, it is a city of about 25,000; seen the Palas and a few fire churches. The people sure treat us fine but I can't talk their language at all (I sure learned a lot of French, I don't think). I sure am looking for my Xmas box for we have not had any candy for about three months.

Tell the folks that all the boys are down on the Y.M.C.A.—it is the "bunk." The boys that were in the front lines tell us that the Salvation Army and the Red Cross were the only ones to come and see them. We have not had one with us for two months and the one we had didn't do anything for us but to charge us three prices for every thing we bought, so you can see why we are down on them. We have stopped at two or three places where there were Red Cross and Salvation Army and they always had hot chocolate for us and did not charge a cent for it either.

Hetzrath, Germany, Dec. 25, '18. Will write and tell you about our Xmas dinner—we had a good one—roast beef, mashed spuds, chocolate pudding. Then they gave us a can of tobacco, a cigar, package of chocolate and a package of smokes. If you know how hard it is to get smokes over here you would say they done fine.

The Red Cross is with us, and they should have the praise; they give us soup and chocolate every day. They gave each of us a sweater today after the show the boys gave.

We are in a little town; the people seem to like the Yanks but we don't take any chances with them. I have not got the Xmas box yet but I guess it will be here in a day or two. Tell Dad I got the "5-spot" but there is no place to spend it.

Herzrath, Germany, Jan. 2, 1919. I got the box and the $10 (the $5 came about a week ago and the $10 today). The Xmas boxes got here two days after Xmas but they sure were good—some of the boys have not received theirs yet.

Can't tell you much about this country as I don't like it and can not say anything good about it so went try. The only way we can tell if one of them has a lot of money is by the stack of manure he has in front of his house; if he has four or five hogs in the basement he is way up in the 400 class.

I am going to make a lot of work for the cooks when I get home—not a thing less than chicken-pie and cake. Tell Ma that cake in the Xmas box was too small—I lost it in one of those vacant spots in my mouth and could not find it again.

"Somewhere in the West"

there is development going on in 1919 that you want to know about. It may be a reclamation project, a new mining project, a newly-discovered oil field, openings for manufacturers, opportunities in growing sheep, cattle, hogs, horses or other livestock, or you may want to know something of the scenery of the West—what to see when you motor across country on the new highways that are being built.

"Building the West"

The New West Magazine is the only publication in the United States devoted solely to "Building the West," and it is the nation's exponent of the advantages and opportunities to be found in the West. It is bringing the "landless man to the ranches land."

Among the important subjects that will be carefully presented with accompanying illustrations in The New West Magazine in 1919 will be:

Western Reconstruction
Waste Lands to be Reclaimed (a series)
Giving the Settler a Chance
Agriculture the Basis of Commerce
What Capital Demands of the West
Efficiency on the Farm
Making Satisfied Farmers
State Aid for Industrial Development
Good Roads and Distribution

Alaska
America's Unexplored Empire
Obstacles that Prevent Alaskan Development
Fish More Valuable than Gold
Scenes of Impending Grandeur
The Railroads of Alaska
Recent Alaskan Mining Development
Adventures in Wonderland

Western Wonders and Tourist Travel
American Attractions vs. European Battlefields
Seeking Beauty Instead of Ruins
Building National Highways

Developing Home Industries

The observance of "Western Consumers Week," which originated with The New West Magazine six years ago, will be carried out on a larger scale than ever in 1919. The second week in April is the regular date chosen. During this week all the people of the West—and especially the women—will be asked to call for and use Western-made goods, and retail merchants will make special displays of articles manufactured in the West.

TIE PIN RESTORES HEARING

As Applied by Policeman It Works Magic With San Francisco Panhandler.

San Francisco.—Armed with an affidavit setting forth that he was deaf and dumb and was trying to raise money with which to purchase a peanut roaster, William Welch entered a downtown jewelry store with high hopes of getting a "handout."

While busily engaged running the alphabet in the deaf and dumb language for one of the clerks who was about to "fall," Policeman Tim Connell happened in. Recognizing the supposedly mute man, Connell drew out his stick pin and made a lunge.

"Ouch, ouch, ow!" said the deaf one; "what the—"

"You're under arrest," smiled Connell.

Later Welch told Police Judge Fitzpatrick he was not guilty, and that he had been jabbed.

"Never mind," said the court. "Six months in the county jail."

Fellow policemen are wondering if the prick of the pin restored the voice and hearing of William.
