WOMEN URGED TO HELP SAVE U. S. INTEGRITY

By Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, State Chairman, Woman's Liberty Loan Committee of Oregon

"This is to be the last Liberty Loan!"

These words we send to you, still thrilling with the joy that was ours when they came to us; not for the promise of work curtailed; not for the lifting of a financial burden from weighted shoulders, but for their resounding cry of victory, heralding a thanksgiving call to all the nations of the earth.

Six months ago we urged you to dedicate your services and your money to the use of the government that victory might be ours. The magnificent response from the women of Oregon, and other states, by their consecrated loyalty and generous support played no small part in bringing joy to the world on the eleventh of last November. Our money, lavishly loaned and used, was the dynamic force that prostrated the German barbarians, and stopped the slaughter of our splendid manhood. The magnitude of our preparations struck terror to the enemy, for it implied the obligation America had taken upon herself, and her grim determination to see it through to a glorious finish.

SARAH A. EVANS

The victory has been won, but have we canceled all our obligations? Certainly not until we have paid every debt incurred to help about this victory, and hence we return home every soldier who made it possible.

Our thank-offering for the speedy close of the war, the thousands of lives spared, and the untold suffering thus saved must be the preservation of the financial integrity of America, and a comprehensive readjustment of disturbed conditions. This can only be done by a generous and ready response to this last great call—THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN.

Let us rededicate ourselves and our treasure once more to the cause of peace, as did the wise men of old when they heard from the Judean Hills the song of victory:

"Peace on Earth; good will to men."

TELL IT TO THE MARINES IF YOU WANT TO DIE

General Catlin Explains Why World Is Afraid of "Leathernecks."

It isn't nice to swear in type. Neither is war nice. This is a war story. It was told by Brigadier General Catlin in his book, "With the Help of God and a Few Marines." Belleau Wood is the setting.

The general had given his troops the order to advance. His last words were as they started across the wheat fields under a withering fire. "Give 'em hell, boys."

"Some one has reported," the General continues, "that they advanced on those words crying, 'Remember the Lusitania.' If they did I failed to hear it."

"Somehow that doesn't sound like the sort of things the Marines say under the conditions."

Then General Catlin tells what they did say. When the lines were wavering under the terrific German fire, a sergeant cried out:

"Come on you———, do you want to live forever?"

Tell the Marines that you are not going to take your share of the coming Victory Liberty Loan.

WOMEN AND MONEY

By Chancellor James R. Day, Syracuse University.

The balance which self denial holds in the home is the balance of prosperity and peace. Here woman has her place and office. Is she equal to self denial? Can she wait?

There is nothing so persuasive, so irresistible, as the love of a man for the wife whom he loves. No money is spent with so much joy as the money that goes to her and the children.

Happy is that man whose wife loves him too much to permit him to be foolish when he should be wise, who is so judicious in her temperament, so prudent in her domestic economy, as to add her decisive voice to the month's allowance, and so brave as to insist that the expenditure must always be at least a little less than the income. She ought to say:

"I am not seeking or consenting to support. There will be two of us. If I cannot earn as much as you, I can save more. We will plan together. I will be the home side of your life."

Since Chancellor Day uttered those words the United States government has made it possible for the wife to "add her decisive voice to the month's allowance." War Savings Stamps is the way.

The Italian silver medal of Valor, the Italian War Cross and the Red Cross Order of Merit. She is here representing the Duke d'Aosta's committee to provide relief for wounded Italian soldiers.

SHE BOOSTS CASTRO

Mexican General Employs Woman Press Agent.

Pretty Senorita Gets Stories About Chief in American Newspapers.

Juarez, Mexico.—Mexico is as modern as she is ancient. Gen. Jesus Angel Castro, the new commander in chief of the northeastern military zone, not only has a woman press agent but a pretty one, to see that the general's campaign against the Villa forces receives proper attention from the Mexican and American border newspapers.

She is Senorita Teresa Rodriguez, daughter of a prominent Mexican politician of Mexico City, who came north soon after General Castro was relieved from active duties as subsecretary of war to conduct a campaign against the bandits of the north. Senorita Rodriguez does not speak a word of English, but she succeeded in having her photograph and a sketch of General Castro printed in all the American border papers as soon as she arrived from Chihuahua City to begin her publicity campaign for the Mexican commander.

Yet Senorita Rodriguez said, in her most liquid Spanish, she did not wish to exert what the Americans called "pettulant influence" to get her stories printed.

"Why should not the Mexicans adopt the best the Americans have originated?" she said at military headquarters to the Associated Press correspondent.

"The much-abused press agent has served a very useful purpose in presenting to the public the good features of every worthy movement, every campaign conducted by military or po-

Official leaders, and even your President Wilson recognized this when he appointed a director general of publicity.

"General Castro does not order me to have his deeds and pictures published, although he has done many brave deeds and is a sterling military man. What he instructed me to do, especially on the American side of the border, was to correct many false impressions, subsidized Mexican papers have given the American public about Mexico and its internal conditions. In doing this I feel I am serving my country, and besides I enjoy the work."
