FREE BANKS IS WAY BACK TO NORMAL

By Carl Plehn, Professor of Finance, University of California

Of course the war upset business. It increased some lines such as war munitions but decreased common, everyday peace lines. The only possible way back to normal is to build up common business.

To get back to normal means that we have to get capital back into those lines of business which have fallen behind. If an individual has met a great loss the only way he can make himself whole again is by saving, by strict economy. A country is only a lot of individuals. We have, collectively, to meet the cost of the war, an economic loss, although a moral gain. We can meet it only by saving.

The government is coming to us next month with the Victory Liberty Loan—the last of the Liberty Loans. There are sound financial and economic reasons why the Victory Loan should be brought again to the people. The government could make us save by heavy taxes right now, but it prefers the less harsh and wiser course of borrowing our savings now and taxing on the installment plan, a little each year.

Leave Banks Free.
Now if the people take the loan, as they must, the banks will be left free to lend to the farmer, the manufacturer, the grocer, the butcher, and the baker so they can get busy again. Then production and business will grow and, by the formula, prices will come to normal. Then we shall all know "where we are at" and get straightened out again.

If we "leave it to the banks," they will have "no funds" left for business, big or little. We, ourselves, will not be saving and the day of our redemption will only be postponed. There will result inevitable inflation and the continuance of high and abnormally fluctuating prices.

The Victory Loan is part of the war job just as much as any other Liberty Loan. We can not afford to "let George do it," because if we do we shall be turning our hands from the plow before the end of the furrow is reached, and leaving a big crop of weeds to spring up.

Tonsilitis, It's Cause and Cure.

Tonsilitis is a condition in which the tonsils become swollen and inflamed. The cause of this condition is a subluxation of the vertebra of the spine which produces pressure on the nerves that supply the tonsils.

This causes too much heat in the tonsils and they become swollen and inflamed. The white patches that appear at times are due to improper kidney action. The function of the tonsils is very important and they should not be removed.

We are convincing people by the use of the X-ray that the cause disease is disturbed nerve function due to an abnormal condition of the spine which prevents nature from controlling the parts involved.

Chiropractic will remove the cause of tonsilitis and nature will cure, leaving the tonsils in a healthy condition.
