C. E. LYTLE, G. P. A.

J. O. Elrod was in Portland several days this week, returning yesterday.

Dr. Marie Goffin is visiting over in Klickitat this week, and her husband and business partner is trying, without much success, to look happy during her absence.

W. A. Wallis, who spent a week in Portland, returned home Monday evening. While in Portland he bought a huge stock of summer goods for his rapidly increasing business, and the stock, which will be here in a few days, will go some distance in appeasing the demand for nice, cool summer goods and garments now so general.

Fred Clarke left on yesterday's northbound flier for Hood River. He is looking for a location to go into business for himself, and has his eye on the city built of the bright, red strawberries, and the population of which has increased threefold in the last four years. Mr. Clarke is well known around this section as the popular and obliging assistant of W. O. Hadley, and is a very efficient jeweler. We regret to see him leave us, and hope that some day will find him back in the wheat belt of Sherman county.

The grandstand at the baseball grounds is now roofed over with lumber, making it a cool, comfortable place even on the hottest days. Nearly all our male population assisted in putting the roof on the structure, under the supervision of Major Fitzmaurice, who rustled the impromptu carpenters to the scene of action with a hammer, a saw, and 6 lbs. of 8-penny nails on his person. Fitz has been known to work hard on several occasions, but he outdid himself this time, and the roof was put on in a little over half a day.

The latest estimates of what the Boer war has cost Great Britain place the figures at $1,200,000 up to the present time. This exceeds by $750,000,000 the cost of our war with Spain, to say nothing of what we have gained as the fruits of that contest, and is nearly one-fourth of the total amount that this republic has expended in all its wars since it was established over a hundred years ago. President Kruger's promise that Great Britain would pay a price for her conquest of the Boers that would stagger humanity is thus being literally fulfilled. —Leslie's Weekly.

Sherman county is again heard from, and that with high honors. J. W. Messinger has received a diploma from the Charleston exposition for wheat on exhibition at that place raised by him on his farm near Erskinville. Mr. Messinger feels proud over the award, and well he may, as this wheat, as well as some other in Sherman county, came into competition with the world's cereals, and to carry off the diplomas is something to feel proud of. Sherman county is second to no county in the state in her productions, all of which should be exhibited at every available opportunity. Again the Bulletin will say to farmers, bring in samples of your products this fall, and we will see they are placed upon exhibition at our fairs and let people see what we can raise.

Tracey and Merrill, the two escaped convicts, are leading their pursuers a merry chase. It appears as easy for them to break through the line of guards placed in front of them as it was for the Boers to break through the British lines. If fewer men were employed and less hullabaloo, their capture would perhaps be accomplished sooner and with probably less loss of life. In a moment of excitement one of the hunters shot an associate, and if the unfortunate man escapes with his life he will be lucky. The authorities in our sister state, Washington, poked considerable fun at our Oregon officials in letting two desperadoes escape; and from their antics the result so far is the same. The officials in Washington will learn, if not so informed already, that their capture is no Sunday school picnic, and if they use the same tactics as are used at such gatherings the birds will fly away.

J. M. Parry returned from Portland yesterday.

Geo. T. Parr, of the E. O. L. Co., is doing business in town today.

W. H. Moore was a visitor to the metropolis this week, returning on yesterday's train.

M. C. Biggerstaff returned Tuesday from Mitchell, where he had been visiting friends and relatives for a week.

A game of ball is billed to come off here Saturday between the Dufur and Moro nines. The Dufur boys are supposed to be first-class players, and a very exciting game is anticipated.

The game between Shaniko and Grasstown at the latter place last Sunday resulted in Shaniko getting very badly shanikoed. The G. V. boys played a good game, while Shaniko was only practicing.

The Moro Land Co. sold another section of their Horse Heaven land this week. The company have but few sections left now, and are seriously considering the plan of withdrawing the land from the market for a while, at least.

If you like the Bulletin, send on your dollar and you will get 52 numbers filled full of news during the year. If you haven't got the dollar handy, just write us (or call upon us), saying so, and we will send the paper right along, and you pay us at your convenience. This is fair, is it not?

A case where one man was elected to fill two offices happened in this county during the recent election. At Wasco, the mayor is E. S. Catron; and in the balloting there were only five votes cast for city recorder, Mr. Catron receiving three out of the five. We congratulate the gentleman on his popularity and good fortune. He ought to have a pretty fair thing now, with the salaries from two fat offices coming to him.

Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of microbes.

Sorrow and headache follow him all the days of his life.

He hoppeth from his bed in the morning and his foot is pierced by the tack of disappointment.

He sitteth himself down to rest at noonday, and is lacerated in his nether anatomy by the pin of disaster.

He walketh through the streets of the city in the pride and glory of his manhood, and slippeth on the banana peel of misfortune and unjointeth his neck.

He is stung by the mosquitos of annoyance by day and his frame is gnawed by the bedbugs of affliction at night.

What is man but the blind worm of fate?—seeing that his days are numbered by cycles of pain and his years by seasons of mourning.

In his infancy he runneth over with worms and colic, and in his old age he groaneth with rheumatism and ingrowing toenails.

He marryeth a cross-eyed woman because her father hath a bank account, and findeth she is ridden with hysteria and believeth in witches.

He exalteth himself among the people and swelleth with pride, but when the votes are counted he findeth that he was not in it.

He trusteth in a man who claimeth to be filled with righteousness and standing high in the synagogue, and getteth done up.

For behold, his pious friend is full of guile and runneth over with deceit.

From the cradle to the grave man giveth his alms to him that smiteth him.

His seed multiplieth around him and crieth for bread, and if his sons cometh to honor he knoweth it not.

What is man but a painful wart on the heel of time?

Happy Time in Old Town.

"We felt very happy," writes R. N. Beville, Old Town, Va., "when Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured our daughter of a bad case of scaldhead." It delights all who use it for cuts, corns, burns, bruises, boils, ulcers, eruptions. Infallible for piles. Only 25c at all drug stores.

Crops were never better at this time of year than they are now. And on top of that, word comes from an authentic source that the prospect for a fair price is flattering indeed.

Sherman County's Lands.

The wonderful productiveness of Sherman county has never been fully understood, even by her own citizens. Here is a county that is about the smallest in area of any in the state, but when it comes to wheat producing we find that one-sixth of the entire crop of wheat of the state of Oregon is harvested in this little county. Not only does she produce an immense crop of wheat, but barley, oats, apples, peaches, plums, and all kinds of vegetables flourish and yield in abundance. The people are wide awake and progressive, as is evidenced by the good schoolhouses in every locality.

Land is cheap, selling from $5 to $15 per acre, and all within easy reach of market.

Persons desiring to know more of Sherman county would do well to address O. P. Hulse, Moro, Oregon, who takes great pleasure in giving information concerning its resources and possibilities.

THURSDAY JUNE 19, 1902

IN AND AROUND TOWN.

J. N. Fordyce, Allen & Lewis' representative, did business in town on Thursday of last week.

G. W. Brock, our popular furniture man, went to Hood River on Friday to visit his family.

All arrangements for a baseball tournament here are off. But we will have two games here Saturday, just the same.

Born—In this city, June 16, to the wife of Geo. Kirth, a nine-pound daughter. Mother and girl getting along nicely, but George is almost prostrated with joy.

A few of our local sportsmen spent Sunday on the lordly Deschutes angling for the dainty but elusive trout. Several phenomenal catches have been made this year—farther up the river.

H. A. Moore met with an accident yesterday in the barber shop, and now carries a mustache the living counterpart of Allan Wallis's. So changed was his appearance that we came near asking him for comps for the show last night.

A trainload of wool buyers came down Friday night from Shaniko, passing Moro at about 11 o'clock. The train consisted of one coach, and its occupants were 60 of the jolliest, best-hearted wool buyers who ever drew a breath. They chartered a special so as to catch the midnight train at Biggs.

A force of about fifteen men is working on the new sewer system, and soon there will be terra cotta all over the city. The pipe is being laid at a rapid rate, and soon the whole business will be complete. When finished, we will possess a sewer system the equal of which is seldom found in cities that are smaller than Portland.

Among the passengers on the train Monday morning was A. J. Cooper, who was on his way from Shaniko to the war department, to report for duty as a lieutenant of artillery in the regular army. Lieutenant Cooper received his commission from the war department last week, and so far as we know this is the first appointment of a private citizen from this part of the country to the regular army. Lieutenant Cooper is a Dalles boy, having been born in that city in 1881, and passed his examination the past winter.

Preaching at the Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 a. m. Sermon to parents. "The Bad Boy: Who is to Blame, the Father or the Mother or the Next-Door Neighbor?" Evening services at eight o'clock. An earnest invitation to attend is extended to all.

The Sherman County Sunday School Association will hold their annual convention at Spaulding chapel on the evening of June 25th and all day on the 26th. An excellent programme, good speaking, a big dinner on Thursday. A good time is expected. Everybody invited.

And now Major Waller, just arrived from the Philippines, started in to say a few words on his own behalf, when the war department heard it and called his attention to the fact that he was not the real. When will these army officers, high or low, learn they are not the commander-in-chief? If there is any talking to be done, the president is the man to do it.

Posters are out announcing the schedule of time and rates for an excursion on the Columbia Southern from all points on its line to Wasco on the Fourth of July; and elsewhere in this issue will be found the same schedule. Wasco is sparing neither money or pains to make her celebration of exciting interest to the entire county, and it is safe to say the entire county will be on hand to witness it. The event will cover two days, including the horse fair, and will terminate with a grand ball in the evening. Our baseball boys are practicing every evening to endeavor to make the scheduled game on the Fourth of sufficient interest to the Wascoites. We predict for the occasion a fine celebration, a good and enjoyable horse fair, a brilliant ball game, a large and appreciative crowd, good music and dancing, and beautiful weather.

Leads Them All.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says D. Scott Currier of Loganton, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs. Geo. Bolton.
