A FAIR BLOCKADE RUNNER

"Safe, thank God! How can I ever," he began, warmly; but the other interrupted.
"Don't talk. The Eastern express leaves in twenty minutes. Put on those clothes quickly."
Without another word, Evan rapidly dressed himself in the wide-checked, foppish citizen's suit, drew on a long winter of loudest stripe, and stuffed his own in the empty valise at hand. Then, Fitzhugh locking the door and throwing away the key, they walked rapidly to the suburban station near.

A line of soldiers was drawn up across the platform; and the traitor Virginia's quick eye took in the situation.

"Use this; you are a Pinkerton's man," he whispered; and as Evan thrust the proffered paper into his vest-pocket, he felt cold and crisp notes thoughtfully stuffed into it. And with no break the pair advanced until the sharp command came: "Halt!"

"What is the matter, lieutenant?" Fitzhugh asked, surprised. "Has government impressed this train?"

"No, sir; but we stop all—Ah! captain, I believe I saw you at the camp to-day? You are on Gen. Baldwin's staff?"

"Yes, and on hasty orders east."
"And your friend there?"
"No friend of mine," the spy rejoined, in contemptuous whisper. "Better examine his papers carefully. He is one of those detective fellows."

By his lantern the young officer read Evan's extended pass half aloud:
"Please permit bearer to board and leave all trains, at any point, for public service. ALLAN PINKERTON. Um! that's all right. Let me see your railroad pass."

For a single second Evan felt his heart.

"Snuffles" is the only perfect catarrh cure ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve hay fever or cold in the head.

Catarrh when neglected often leads to consumption—"Snuffles" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "Snuffles" the Guaranteed Catarrh Cure.

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. H 567, Edwin B. Giles & Co., 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

Those wishing dental work should remember that Dr. Idleman is the only dentist in the county whose permanency is guaranteed by the fact that his home and interests are here and that any work which falls in five years is replaced free of charge.

The Shah of Persia is to visit the United States in the near future. He will bring 21 of his wives along.

Eugene Field's

Views on Ambition and Dyspepsia.

"Dyspepsia," wrote Eugene Field, "often incapacitates a man for endeavor and sometimes extinguishes the fire of ambition." Though great desire his complaint Field suffered from indigestion all his life. A weak, tired stomach can't digest your food. It needs rest. You can only rest it by the use of a preparation like Kodol, which relieves it of work by digesting your food. Rest soon restores it to its normal tone.

Strengthening, Satisfying, Invigorating.
Prepared only by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The 51c bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 25c. size.

Should a young man marry?

The answer to this question depends very much on circumstances. There are several young men who should never marry. For instance, nice honest young fellows who are just about able to earn a salary that will keep themselves respectably. This class should think twice before adding to their burden the additional expense it takes to provide for a wife in the first place and after a while for a family. The expression "two can live as cheaply as one" is often heard, but it is a fallacy, they cannot. They may exist by each living on half what it took for support before they became partners, but for two to live as well as one on the same income, is a simple impossibility. The plan may work during the honeymoon period while they are living on each others smiles, but after that comes stern reality, and the income is found to be inadequate for the expenditure. Then comes the baby. The unfortunate mother becomes delicate, peevish, and fretful, the young father morose and worried, poverty peeps in at the door and love is forced to take a header out of the window. Another class of young man that a girl should be careful of taking for better or worse, is the spark of gentility who is born with a silver spoon in his mouth and has contracted all sorts of expensive habits, not very vicious ones certainly, but still habits that would be better avoided. He has been in the habit of going to theatres, having a few friends to an expensive little supper afterwards, dresses in the pink of fashion and has thought more of himself than anyone else under the sun until he met his divinity. They marry, and if the young wife is shrewd and able to turn her husband from the error of his ways and domesticate him, all goes well, if not, and she stays at home alone while he pursues his old course of pleasure, she soon begins to pass a very miserable existence. There are numerous quarrels and curtain lectures which most likely end in the divorce court. On the other hand, if the wife launches out and goes the pace with her husband, has her own set and enjoys herself in that way, there is very little domestic happiness. Husband and wife drift apart, one goes dangling after other women while the other has another young man to fetch and carry for her, and that matrimonial contract is also liable to be declared "null and void." A young man that ought to marry is the fellow who has fought his way up in the world, knows the value of money, and has no bad habits. If a man of this stamp can be found, which we doubt; let him take the girl of his choice to his heart, and if she is as worthy, they will in all probability go hand in hand down the years of married life, loving and beloved, with children and grandchildren at their knees, and at the end personify the beautiful verses of the Baroness Nairne:

"I'm wearin' awa', Jean
Like snaw in the th'at, Jean,
I'm wearin' awa' to the land of the Leal."

Why is it that a boy cannot pass a bird without letting something fly at the little creature. When dead the little warbler is of no use whatever, while alive and flitting round in his gorgeous plumage he is a king of beauty. The boy does this from carelessness and if he does happen to hit the mark we hope he looks at the little feathered corpse with feelings of regret. In a careless moment he has taken a life that ten million men cannot replace. Boys, let the next little bird you see hop round in peace.

The stock ranges are unusually dry this fall, and stockmen are bowling for rain. When September and part of October pass without rain the fall grass fails to put in an appearance and sheep have slim picking on the old grass left after cattle and horses, that remain on the lower ranges after the sheep leave for the mountains. If we don't get a good rain before the 15th of this month, sheep in many localities will fall off considerably from their present good condition.

Natural Anxiety.
Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquefies the mucus allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute cough cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." G. N. Bolton.

Book-lovers will find a nice assortment of stories and novelties by Elia Wheeler Wilcox, Bertha M. Clay, Marie Correlli, Alphonse Daudet, M. E. Holmes, and Mrs. Southworth at the "Beehive." Your choice for 10 cents.

Court News.

The October term of court commenced Monday with the shortest docket and smallest amount of business remembered in the history of the county. Judge Bradshaw presided as usual. Also present, were Lawyers H. S. Wilson, Moore, Menefee, and Sinnott of The Dalles; and Stratton of Grass Valley. Our local talent being represented by J. B. Hosford and R. E. Hoskinson and Wasco by C. J. Bright. The actual time court was really in session was about four hours. Sherman county may well be proud of such a record. Of criminal cases there were none, and the usual crop of local disputes were conspicuous by their absence. Has the millennium come or have the good people of Sherman county decided according to Biblical teaching, to beat their "spears into pruning hooks, and their swords into plow shares," not that pruning hooks are very much needed in the county, and we are afraid the sword would make a very indifferant plow share from a Sherman county farmers point of view; however the broad fact remains, that a season of peace prevails, and court is over, with trifling expense to the tax payers. The following is a summary of the proceedings:

THE HOME GOLD CURE.

An Ingenious Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves. No Noxious Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that drunkenness is a disease and not a weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "Home Gold Cure" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

Wives cure your husbands!! Children cure your fathers!! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "Cure" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. Do not wait. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "Home Gold Cure" is sold at the extremely low price of one dollar, thus placing within the reach of everybody a treatment more effective than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. H 567, Edwin B. Giles & Co., 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

All correspondence strictly confidential.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.
Something New Under the Sun. Doctors have tried to cure Catarrh by powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. The powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures catarrh, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This remedy is known as "Snuffles the Guaranteed Catarrh Cure" and is sold at the extremely low price of one dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

The Worst Form.
Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals, it digests what you eat." G. N. Bolton.

How About Your Heart

Feel your pulse a few minutes. Is it regular? Are you short of breath, after slight exertion as going up stairs, sweeping, walking, etc? Do you have pain in left breast, side or between shoulder blades, choking sensations, fainting or smothering spells, inability to lie on left side? If you have any of these symptoms you certainly have a weak heart, and should immediately take
