Last Thursday afternoon, at the foundry, quite a crowd gathered to witness the molding into useful articles of over a ton of molten iron. When everything was ready, Jack Daley, with his assistants, began to draw the melted iron from the big furnace and to pour it into the various molds. Sparks flew in every direction, and at times the spectators seemed inclined to fly too, but everything passed off rapidly and smoothly. J. A. West had a stove spider to inspect as soon as it could be made. It came out in fine shape, and was pronounced a success in every particular, and of course, Allie was correspondingly elated. A variety of castings were made, fully demonstrating the entire feasibility and success of the only foundry in this part of Oregon in casting all kinds of work.

LATEST OBTAINABLE.

The Spanish fleet at Santiago has been wiped off the sea, all but one being sunk or burned, the one captured being the Cristobal Colon. The immediate surrender of Santiago demanded—and it is believed the city will surrender, as it is at the mercy of our forces.

 A corral has been built back of the Altamont Jr. Stables for the convenience of the owners and the public.
 Moro is getting to be quite a horse market. It is quite a common occurrence for horses to be in one or more of the corrals for sale.
 When you want to make a cheap and quick trip to The Dalles, jump aboard of Lum Brown's stage, which leaves Moro three times a week—Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The proprietor is accommodating and courteous, and spares no pains to make the trip a pleasant one.
 This office acknowledges a short call by Hon. N. J. Sinnott of The Dalles Tuesday noon. He left Antelope, where he had been to deliver the Fourth of July oration to the people there. At an early hour he left on the stage, arriving here for dinner. He reports a good crowd and an enjoyable time at Antelope on the Fourth.
 At the DeMoss Springs Sunday school election last Sunday the following officers were elected: Superintendent, W. E. Allison; treasurer, Mrs. Woods; secretary, Miss Vena Webb; librarian, Miss Ita Webb; chorister, Mrs. Webb; Bible class teacher, Mr. Mitchell; intermediate class, Mrs. Mitchell; primary class, Mrs. Allison.
 This office received a box of large luscious peaches by stage Monday from T. Clay Neece at Grant, for which our thanks are extended. Finer peaches it would be hard to find anywhere. That Sherman county can raise as good fruit and as much of it as any county in Eastern Oregon is being rapidly proven by results of well-directed efforts, and it is only a matter of time, and not a long time either, when we will be shipping car loads of the finest flavored fruit in the world to those less favorably located. Sherman county farmers should pay closer attention to planting orchards, and what is of great importance, properly cultivating and caring for them after planting.

At Grass Valley,
 The Fourth was celebrated in a befitting manner at Grass Valley this year. The people of that lively town spared neither pains nor money to make the affair a success. Their hall was nicely decorated, and the program was carried out as far as it was possible to do so. The reading of the Declaration of Independence by Miss Bailey, in a sweet clear strong voice, was appreciated by all. Hon. A. A. Jayne of The Dalles delivered the oration in a masterly manner. The choruses by little girls was happily rendered. The toasts were responded to in a spirited manner. Taken altogether the exercises in the hall, and the outdoor sports in the afternoon, were entered into with zest, and an earnest desire to please all visitors was manifested by the residents of the southern metropolis of Sherman county.
 A visit to Grass Valley on the Fourth was an eye-opener to the editor. We used to know everybody and all his neighbors years ago, but now hundreds of new faces are to be seen, many new buildings have been erected during the past year, and farms show much improvement. While the crowds were on the streets celebrating Grass Valley had something the appearance of a busy city, with its multitudes rushing here and there intent on seeing all that was to be seen—foot-races one place, riding bronchos another, and seeking refreshments at another. Notwithstanding the large crowds Grass Valley succeeded in entertaining her visitors in a creditable manner, and there was abundance of patriotism manifested by all present. This war-time celebration was a complete success.

W. C. T. U.

Ginn; scientific temperance, Laura Moore; mothers' meetings, Mrs. Ragdale; Sunday school, Mrs. Anderson; flower mission, Carrie Kaseberg; medal contest, America Moore; literature, Ella Hayes; social purity, Mrs. Woods; press, Mary Peoples; narcotics, Mrs. Jennie Holder; mercy, Mary Peoples; Petition, and Union Signal, Mrs. C. B. Ginn.

W. of W. Social.
 Wednesday evening, June 29, the Women of Woodcraft of Moro gave a social in honor of their recently returned members from Monmouth. Woodmen and their families, together with as many visitors as could well be entertained, were in attendance. An excellent musical and literary program was rendered in a most pleasing manner, after which ice-cream and cake was served. One of the most entertaining and instructive features of the evening was a contest of skill and speed between Mrs. Chas. Hulse and Mrs. Wm. Holder. A couple of buck-saws and saw-bucks were placed upon the stage, with a stick of wood for each, and at the word each of the ladies grasped, in a more or less confident manner, a saw, and the contest began. Amid roars of laughter, after Mrs. Holder had decided which end of the saw to tackle, they sawed and sawed with graceful awkwardness, until Mrs. Holder, in some way or other, succeeded in inducing the stick she was mutilating to fall apart before Mrs. Hulse could accomplish the same end, thus winning the contest, and proving to Mr. Hulse that he had sadly neglected that portion of his wife's education. The social was a success, and greatly enjoyed by all.

R. C. Bennett goes to the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., as a representative from Grass Valley Lodge, No. 65.

Earl Barzee met with quite an accident Monday morning while on his way to Grass Valley to celebrate. He was riding down hill rather fast, when the rim of his wheel broke, giving him a fall and severely spraining his ankle.
 The Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., for Oregon, will meet in Portland on Tuesday, July 19, at 10 o'clock A. M. The O. R. & N. has made a rate of one and one-half fare for round trip for all delegates; the S. P. one and one-third fare round trip.
 W. B. McCoy, Boone Wheat, J. G. Potter, Wm. Henrichs and A. E. Cousens and families and others, spent the Fourth fishing in the DesChutes. We have not interviewed them, but suppose each has a tale to unfold about the wonderful catches made, such as two being caught on one line at a time, said to have been accomplished by one of the party, whose name is withheld for prudential reasons, etc.
 The cornerstone of the new brick block will be laid this week by D. M. Radley. The current issue of the LEADER goes into it along with other fitting reminders of Moro at the present time. The laying of this cornerstone marks the beginning of a new era for Moro—the beginning of a solid substantial growth, brought about by the force of circumstances that mark Moro as a lasting monument to the excellence of the surrounding country, and of the push and staying qualities of her early settlers. May our city go on as she has begun, ever in the lead, always peopled by as energetic, social and moral people as can be found, each and every one doing his part in promoting the general welfare, and this first cornerstone will be followed by many more.

G. W. Brock will give you a fine meal for 25 cts. at any hour, at the new restaurant.
 Call with your work and get it done in first-class style before the rush of harvest work commences.

 There's a screw loose somewhere when a minister gets the princely salary of $400 per year, and a base-ball player only gets $4000.
 "Some of these summer young men," remarked Miss Cayenne pensively, "remind me of Dresden china." "Because they are beautiful?" "Yes; and they get broke so easily."
 "Will you walk into my parlor?" said Cervera unto Schley. "I'm not Cavite ready," the other did reply. "When my jacksies get your mines all up, I'll make you a cordial call, and my word for it, Cervera, your spider-web will fall."
 An artist is authority for the following measurements, which he claims are necessary for a perfect model of physical beauty of the female form:
 "To meet the requirements of a classic figure," he says, "a woman should be 5 feet 4 1/2 inches tall, 32 inches bust measure, 24 inches around the waist, 9 inches from armpit to waist, long arms and neck."
 "A queenly woman, however, must be 5 feet 5 inches tall, 36 inches bust, 26 1/2 inches waist, 35 inches over the hips, 11 1/2 inches around the ball of the arm, 6 1/2 inches around the wrist, hands and feet not too small."
 A similar authority lays down the rule that no colors should be worn, save those which have a duplicate in the hair, eyes or complexion, and he claims that a woman with blue-gray eyes and a thin, neutral-tinted complexion never looks so well as when dressed in blue shades which are mixed with gray.
 A brunette should wear cream color, as this reproduces the tints of her skin; while florid complexions look well in plum and heliotrope, also a dove gray, as these contain a hint of pink, and so harmonize well with the face in which there is a great deal of color.

The Gift of Voice.

One would hardly think that a cow was influenced by music, but it seems she is. In Switzerland this fact is so well understood that a milk maid or man gets better wages if gifted with a good voice. Experiments have been made, and it has been found that a cow gives one-fifth more milk if soothed during the milking by a pleasing melody. At the famous horse stables in California a cross word is never heard, nor are the stable boys or grooms permitted to swear while they are working about their charges. It will be a new idea to many children, however, that cows and horses thus appreciate gentleness and harmony.
