PLEASE READ.
This MORO LEADER will not be charged up to any one who has not ordered the paper. Any one getting copies of the LEADER need not be afraid to take them out of the P. O., for they will not be asked to pay for it only from the time of subscribing. All papers sent to you before are a free gift. We do this for the purpose of letting all see what kind of a newspaper we publish, and in this way expect to prove that we publish the best paper in Sherman county.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION
Will expire when there is a blue pencil mark under your name, and only one or two more copies will be sent you, unless you renew. Watch for it, and renew at once, so as to not miss any copies.

Owing to our rapidly increasing subscription list, we are obliged to refrain from sending out as many sample copies of the MORO LEADER as heretofore. To all receiving copies who have not subscribed, we extend a cordial invitation to do so at once. Send in your subscription without delay, and pay your dollar soon as you can.

Fine job work at the LEADER press room. Call and see our samples.

Born—To the wife of Fred Guinther Sunday, Sept. 18, a fine plow-boy. Mother and child doing nicely.

Gilbert Allison and Kelly M. Duncan of Grass Valley were in Moro Saturday evening. We acknowledge a pleasant call. Mr. Duncan was in on court business.

Mrs. D. D. Bolton of The Dalles, a sister-in-law to our popular druggist, G. N. Bolton, has been visiting in Moro for about two weeks.

Mrs. P. O. DeMoss began school at DeMoss last Monday. The people of DeMoss have secured a good teacher, who is equally well qualified in music.

The M. E. Church at this place that is being erected, will have a seating capacity of about 380, and will have a class-room connecting with the main part by folding doors.

Mr. C. Allison, who purchased the L. K. Moore store building, arrived last week. His sister-in-law accompanied him, and will open an artist's studio soon.

W. E. Allison and Owen Thompson have the honor of delivering the best wheat yet to the mill at Wasco. Mr. Allison's wheat was bluestem, and weighed 147 pounds to the sack.

Miss Bertha Darby arrived here last week from Waldo Hills, near Salem. She has been engaged to teach in the public school in Moro, but as the term does not begin until Oct. 3, she has gone to visit her sister for a few days at Arlington.

Wm. Henrichs and H. S. McDanel and families spent last Sunday at DesChutes picnicing. Billy brought home four large trout in his basket. He is an expert at angling now. All he needs is a forked stick and grasshopper.

E. W. Elrod has sufficiently recovered to be about again. Last week he attended the Workmen's lodge here, of which he is a member. The lodge furnished a competent nurse for him while needed, and he seems to thoroughly appreciate it.

The Wasco county court leased, at their last term, the DesChutes river to the Sherman County Lumber and Wood Co. The company now hold a lease from both counties, and are preparing to embark in the business on an extensive scale.

Having located in Moro permanently, I desire to announce to the public that I will be ready in a week or ten days to take first-class photographs. Your patronage is respectfully solicited. D. A. Hatten.

Harvest is about over, and though there were no very large yields of wheat, still the average is good, and with fair prices Sherman county farmers will prove that a farmer's life is the most independent of any vocation.

Thanks are due Mrs. Mary McDanel for valuable reportorial favors this week. Articles from her facile pen have appeared in other papers, and been well received. In the New Year Oregonian the write-up of Sherman county was her work, and speaks for itself.

John Williams is a happy man. A few days ago he received word that he had fallen heir to a large sum of money—$60,000 we are informed. Mr. Williams has been working in J. C. Williams' barber shop, but has now quit, and is investigating the opportunities for investment.

Last Friday evening a few friends gathered at the elegant Mowry residence to enjoy an evening of social mirth and to bid their young friends, Miss Ida and Master George, farewell for a time, as the latter are going away to school for the winter. A real enjoyable time was had, and one that will be remembered by those present.

The editor of the Leader was kindly remembered and honored with a piece of the wedding cake, sent us from the wedding feast at Rutledge upon the marriage of Miss Lottie Eakin and Mr. Louis Dillinger, Sunday, notice of which appears in another column. May the benison of peace and prosperity attend them through life.

Bishop C. C. McCabe, of the M. E. Church, will deliver his famous lecture on the "Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison," in The Dalles Sept. 22, (to-morrow) at 7:30 P. M., at the M. E. Church. No doubt it will be a treat to those who attend, and as the price of admission is only 50 cents, which goes for the church, it is expected that a large audience will greet the distinguished divine.

Loaned on Sherman county real estate. Call on or address R. E. Hoskinson, Moro, Oregon.

To-night be sure to attend the citizens' meeting to hear report of committee.

Don't forget to place your farm to sell with R. E. Hoskinson.

Born—To the wife of D. W. Huff, Sunday, Sept. 18, a son.

License to wed has been granted to Frank Pickett and Mary Beachler.

Friday evening of each week will be ladies' night at the bowling alley of E. B. Wheat, next door to the City Hotel.

R. J. Ginn returned from Walla Walla Monday. He has been with his father, who is quite sick, and may not recover.

Attention is called to the notice of an auction sale of horses in Moro Saturday next at McCoy & Hulse's barn, by W. C. Brown.

P. J. Patterson & Co. are now settled in their new store, next door to F. H. Meader & Co., where they will dispense patent medicines, confectionery, cigars, etc.

John Kay arrived with his family Saturday from Portland, and has moved into the Dickman house, opposite the school house.

By request, the Billiard table and Bowling Alley will be closed on Sunday. Ladies are welcome at all times. Special ladies' night will be as usual. Wednesday evening. W. HOGGARD.

G. W. Brock has been obliged, on account of a larger business than he anticipated, to build a 2-story addition, 14 by 20 feet, to his restaurant on Main street.

Another fine assortment of material for job work just arrived at this office. Call and inspect our work, get prices, and give us your order. Satisfaction guaranteed.

The following persons made final proof before County Clerk Henrichs Saturday, Sept. 17: Mrs. Louisa Clements, and Geo. Clements of Grass Valley, and M. H. Bennett of Kent.

Jas. Hayes is still running his threshing, and will not go to the Palouse country, as reported. His leg, that was hurt some time ago, is nearly well, and he is able to walk around.

There will be a Harvest Ball given at the Moro Opera House on Friday evening, Sept. 30. Tickets, including supper, $1.50. Best of music and a general good time assured.

Last Saturday evening E. B. Wheat opened his new remodeled bowling alley to the public for free bowling for that evening. Many availed themselves of the opportunity. The alleys are better now than ever, and reflect credit on the carpenters who did the work.

Married—Monday, Sept. 19, 1898, at the parlors of the New Moro Hotel, Mr. V. G. Thompson and Miss Jaane E. Payne, Rev. C. D. Nickelsen officiating. We join a host of friends in wishing them the fullest measure of happiness and prosperity.

A. E. Lake was in town Monday, and while here made final arrangements for the immediate erection of his residence. W. H. Bishop is to do the carpenter work. Our excellent public school is one of the causes bringing Mr. Lake here.

A. B. Potter was in town Tuesday. He informed us that he has purchased the Klondike branch of the M. M. Co. stores. He says it is the place where purchasers will get their money's worth. Klondike now has three trains a day, making the town all life and bustle.

Moore Bros. are erecting a platform in Moro to receive wheat, and if they can get the balance of lumber in time will be ready to receive wheat in about a week. The difficulty of getting lumber promptly, is causing a great deal of vexatious delay in building operations in Moro.

John H. Rogers, whose death, on Sept. 13, was recorded in last week's LEADER, was 59 years and 1 month old. The funeral services were held at Monkland, and the interment was in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery at Moro on the 14th. The father's body was placed by the side of the son and daughter, who died the latter part of August. There remain the widowed mother and seven children to mourn his loss, one of whom, a son, was at last accounts in Polk county sick with fever.

Klondike Gold Loaned on Sherman county real estate. Call on or address R. E. Hoskinson, Moro, Oregon.

In Justice Court.

Last week, upon complaint of John W. Clark, David McKelvey was arrested on a charge of assault and battery. The hearing was postponed until Sept. 20, at 10 A. M., when a jury was demanded by the defendant, and the officer is still out after jurymen as we go to press.

Last Friday, David McKelvey appeared before Justice Meader and filed information against John Clark and Jessie Clark his wife, charging them with assault with a dangerous weapon. Saturday evening defendants were arraigned and the examinations were continued to 2 P. M. Sept. 20. Not yet taken up as we go to press.

Saturday evening late, upon affidavit of Kelley Duncan, Justice Meader placed John Clark under bonds in the sum of $500, to keep the peace.

AUCTION SALE.
Saturday, Sept. 24.
I will sell at public auction in Moro, at McCoy & Hulse's barn, 30 good young horses, from 4 to 6 years of age. Title to horses guaranteed. Reference, W. L. Wilcox, sheriff of Gilliam county.

CHURCH SERVICES.
Rev. W. H. Bast will preach next Sunday, Sept. 25, at Jack's school house, 11 a. m.; at DeMoss Springs, 3 p. m.; at Presbyterian Church, Moro, 7:30 p. m. Subject, "Man, The Son of God."

A Close Call.
What might have been a very disastrous fire started in the bank of Moore Bros. Sunday evening. It was discovered in time to prevent damage. The fire started in the waste basket in some manner, and was burning briskly when smoke was seen forcing out through the transom over the door. H. A. Moore happened to be near at hand at the time, and hastened to open the door, and the fire was quickly extinguished, without calling out the fire department.

Dillinger-Eakin Wedding.
Married—At Rutledge M. E. Church, Sept. 18th, Louis Dillinger to Miss Lottie Eakin, Rev. Johns officiating.

The wedding ceremony of the above parties took place at 12 M. (high noon) before a crowded house of personal friends. The bride was handsome in blue silk and white veil. The groom wore the customary black dress suit. Vesta, Dillinger, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and Lynn Eakin, brother of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony about 60 guests were invited to Mr. Otis Eakin's home to the wedding dinner, which was bountiful and excellent, and although the spacious parlors were crowded, the host and hostess were at home and entertained each friend in a worthy manner. There were rare selections of music, greatly appreciated by all, during the serving of this feast. The presents were numerous and very useful.

The bride is the eldest daughter of our esteemed friend Otis Eakin, and a very estimable young lady. The groom is the eldest son of A. Dillinger, and is a student for the ministry, and both bride and groom have grown up among the many friends at the wedding, all of whom rejoice at the union, and wish them a long and happy life, such as can be found only in blissful wedded life.

The editor joins these numerous friends in their kindly wishes to our young friends.

Share Your Blessings.
The world is very full of sorrow and trial, and we cannot live among our fellow-men and be true without sharing their loads. If we are happy we must hold the lamp of our happiness so that it will fall upon the shadowed heart. If we have no burden it is our duty to put our shoulders under the load of others. Selfishness must die or else our own heart's life must be frozen within us. We soon learn that we cannot live for ourselves and be Christians, that the blessings that are sent us are to be shared with others in that we are only God's almoners to carry them in God's name to those for whom they were intended.—Pacific Protestant.
